

HARDY DODGES REPORT QUERY

Judge Declines to Answer in Detective Inquiry

Mrs. Sielaff Hurls Charge of "Miss X" Connivance

Senate Gets in Uproar Over Matter of Procedure

DETAILS OFFERED
Mrs. Sielaff said that Judge Hardy told her that "if you need any help, I will get a Burns detective, one that can be depended upon." She related fully the reported conversation with Judge Hardy, including a talk about turning on the radio so that an announcement from Angelus Temple might be heard.

Judge Hardy was asserted by Mrs. Sielaff to have said, "You know I have spent a great deal of time and a great deal of thought on this case and it is necessary to clear Mrs. McPherson." She declared that the judge said that he had hired a detective to go to Carmel to investigate the story there.

Asked as to whether she knew Ormiston at the time she called on Judge Hardy, the witness replied in the affirmative and added, "I have never met Ormiston yet."

She told of a statement to her by Judge Hardy that she could get in touch with him at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, and that he would be glad to have her go to lunch with his wife and himself.

On the question of any discussion as to the danger of producing a "Miss X" or proceeding along the lines she had in mind, Mrs. Sielaff declared that Judge Hardy allayed her fears by saying:

"I am a respectable judge on the superior bench and I have a great deal of influence with Asa Keyes."

A second meeting with Judge Hardy also was described by Mrs. Sielaff, who said she again went to the home and while there asked the judge if he "really thought Mrs. McPherson had been kidnapped." He just smiled, she declared. Then she said, she told her, "You know that Mrs. McPherson has done a lot of good for a lot of people and she will do a lot more if we can clear her."

Mrs. Sielaff said that Judge Hardy advised her to get in touch with Ormiston's parents so that she might know more about him.

Two letters and a telegram passed between Judge Hardy and Mrs. Sielaff and were introduced as evidence by Assemblyman Cronin. The letters were signed "Judge."

Another letter was declared by Sielaff to have been turned over to the then District Attorney, Asa Keyes. She declared that Keyes refused to return the letter to her.

On the question as to whether she produced a "Miss X," Mrs. Sielaff said that she did. She also told of the affidavit signed by "Miss X" at Salinas.

TRACER ON STAND
Prior to the appearance of Mrs. Sielaff, Sheriff Tracer of Los Angeles went on the stand and testified that Judge Hardy telephoned him and requested him to permit Deputy Sheriff Dewar to go to the border and investigate the "Rose, Steve and Frank" angle of the asserted kidnapping.

Assemblyman Hornblower for the managers recalled Roland Rich Woolley, one of the McPherson attorneys, to the stand to bring out further testimony that Judge Hardy participated in the discussions relative to the killing of witnesses in the McPherson preliminary hearing.

He said that matters of the defense were discussed at a conference at which the McPherson attorneys and Hardy were present. Woolley declared that everybody, including Hardy, participated in the discussions. He said that Mrs. McPherson already has told her story on the witness stand and the question resolved itself around who should be called and who shouldn't, to support Mrs. McPherson's story.

SEEN IN ENVELOPES
Detective Archambault was cross-examined by Defense Attorney Nims as to how he knew the reports were mailed to Judge Hardy and the witness replied that he had seen them in his envelopes. Mr. Nims then asked:

Said Assemblyman Sewell: "Defense counsel on cross-examination has very clearly proved the admission of the evidence. We have no further questions."

The mountainous figure of Dep. Atty. Dennis of Los Angeles, crowded by a host of gray hair, occupied the witness chair at the afternoon session to identify a statement which the District Attorney took from Judge Hardy about the time a criminal charge was filed against Mrs. McPherson.

He was examined by Assemblyman Nims and by Judge Hardy, who recounted at great length his dealings with R. A. McKinley, a blind long beach lawyer who reported that two men, giving the names of Miller and Wilson, came to him, asserting themselves to be the kidnapers of Mrs. McPherson.

HARDY TALE RETOLD
Judge Hardy related his visits and conversations with McKinley, who had been killed a few weeks before in an automobile accident, in much detail, always bringing out that he turned the matter over to McPherson attorneys and detectives for investigation because he was not convinced of the sincerity of the affair.

He stated that he sent J. W. Buchanan, Burns agency manager, to Carmel to check up on the love episode incident and added that he always contended that Ormiston should come forward to settle the controversy over the identity of his companion.

At this stage of the proceedings Judge Hardy was under questioning and his answers are interspersed with dashes, pauses and repetitions. The sense of one seems to be that while he did not tell Buchanan he did instruct him to go to San Francisco and find Ormiston's parents.

Euchanan, it seems, wanted the Burns office in Chicago to get in touch with Ormiston, Judge Hardy said, and he continued that he received a Burns report as to the activities of the Chicago office in that respect.

HARDY IN CHARGE
Mr. Little then read some of the correspondence with McKinley, to which Judge Hardy asked the attorney to produce results and not to spend any money if he results did not seem to justify it.

Dennis then left the stand and Mr. Sewell began the examination of Arthur Veitch, one of the McPherson attorneys. Mr. Veitch related a number of conferences he had with other McPherson lawyers in the presence of Judge Hardy. Judge Hardy was something of a "yes man" in the matter, Mr. Veitch said, on cross-examination. He admitted testifying once before that

KING AND SAILOR CHAT OF OLD SHIPMATE DAYS

BOGNOR (Eng.) April 12. (P)—Two seafaring cronies looked over an old ship's log book, examined faded photographs and discussed vanished comrades in the garden of Craigwell House today.

One was His Majesty, King George V of England, erstwhile midshipman in the British navy, and the other was William King, 65-year-old sailor, who had been His Majesty's shipmate aboard the old warship Bacchante, nearly fifty years ago.

William brought with him, in addition to the log book, photographs of the Bacchante taken during a squall in the Indian Ocean. King George was aboard at the time as a midshipman, and was known familiarly to his shipmates as "Sprats."

The King was very nice and jolly," said William after their interview, "and we laughed and talked of the days when we were young lads together, and when I used to pull ashore in the captain's cutter."

His Majesty recalled many little incidents which occurred aboard ship. I was surprised how vivid were his recollections of those far-away days.

One of William's most treasured possessions hitherto will be an autographed photograph of the King in an admiral's uniform, which His Majesty presented him before saying good-bye.

The seafaring King, who was almost constantly at sea until the age of 27, and the seafaring man, who passed all his life at sea, chatted for quite a time in the garden of Craigwell House, where King George is recuperating from his long illness.

JUGO-SLAVIA KING OUSTS ARMY HEADS

Military Uprising Feared as Result of Wholesale Retirement Orders

BELOGRADE (Jugo-Slavia) April 12. (P)—Political and military circles were startled tonight by the announcement that King Alexander by royal decree had retired Gen. P. Pestich, chief of the general staff and the highest military officer of the kingdom, three army corps commanders and thirty-three other officers.

In diplomatic circles the drastic action was interpreted as a determination to weed out all dissentient elements in the army and to replace them with trusted younger officers. Gen. Milan Milovanovich, a virtually unknown general staff officer, was appointed to succeed Gen. Pestich, a war hero, and the other generals were replaced by much younger men.

Some circles express fear that this summer's wholesale retirement of proven military leaders may open the way to a military uprising such as that in 1903, when former King Alexander and Queen Zenaide and five of their intimates were assassinated by army conspirators.

The official reason for the retirement was that the officers had reached the age limit.

(P)—Hearing of the application of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company for rate increases in the San Francisco Bay region were continued to May 2 by the State Railroad Commission at the conclusion of the session today. Cabinet Post of Forestry Urged

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12. (P)—Organization of a special department of forestry, headed by a member of the President's Cabinet, was urged today by Harry A. Greene of Monterey before a special meeting of the State Forestry Board. Greene, a champion of timber conservation for fifty years, said such action is imperative if the nation's lumber resources are to be saved.

KING OF CHRISTMAS ISLAND AT BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12. (P)—Rev. Emanuel Roulet, known as the "King of Christmas Island," arrived in San Francisco today on a visit from his domain in the South Seas. He leased the island from the British government for 103 years in 1914, and maintains a clove raising industry.

ing his shells on the Mexican side. A troop of United States cavalry moved out of Fort Huachuca in the night to the border to chase back a detachment of rebels who were going from Nogales to Naco and were "going to take a short cut across American soil."

The Federals have three planes now at Naco and three more are expected tomorrow.

It is reasonable to suppose that Tupte will wait for reinforcements from Escobar's army, now moving through Pulpito Pass, before attacking.

Reports from Agua Prieta are to the effect that Escobar's advance guard is arriving, but there is no assurance that this is so.

FEDERALS CLOSING IN ON STATE OF SONORA

MEXICO CITY, April 12. (P)—Federal armies rapidly are closing in on the rebel State of Sonora, according to official reports from the Chihuahua and Sinaloa fronts.

The government hopes to have the rebellion confined to Sonora within a week and then will launch determined drives from various points to wipe out the rebellion.

Secretary of War Calles is at Culiacan, Sinaloa, tonight, having moved his headquarters northward by train from Mazatlan. Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, who is in active command of the Pacific coast column, pressed northward with his cavalry toward San Blas, where the insurgents last were reported concentrated.

Gen. Jazola of Sinaloa issued a manifesto to the people today telling them that President Porfirio Gil has offered amnesty to all civilians who were beguiled by the rebels into taking up arms. If these surrender their arms at Culiacan and give assurance that they will pursue peaceful pursuits they are promised safe conduct to their homes.

A manifesto declared that Gen. Cardenas has 5000 troops and that they will continue their victorious march through the State of Sonora until the insurgent leaders are driven across the American border.

GEN. MANZO AND STAFF ENTER UNITED STATES

NOGALES (Ariz.) April 12. (P)—Gen. Francisco Manzo and his complete personal staff of fifteen crossed the international line into the United States tonight and is now under the custody of the United States immigration department and is subject to the usual immigration examinations and rulings. Tomorrow the staff and Gen. Manzo will be taken before the United States immigration authorities for examination.

Gen. Manzo is at present in his house on Morley avenue with his family and has been seen with American lawyers.

Yesterday when he appeared before Gen. Jose Gonzalo Escobar at Cananea he was put under a military investigation and reduced in rank. Gen. Tupte and Cruz being put over him. He was ordered back to Hermosillo today, but fearing that execution would be his lot for asserted Federal sympathies, crossed the international line.

AMERICAN TROOPS RUSH TO BORDER

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) April 12. (P)—Movement of United States troops to the Mexican border are under way on an extensive scale tonight with army authorities determined to use stern measures should American lives be jeopardized by fighting along the international line between the rival armies in Mexico.

A battery from Fort Bliss, El Paso, under command of Lieut. Thomas Gunby detached at Don Luis, midway between Babine and Naco, Ariz., was ordered to prepare for possible action from a hillside which the unit occupies. There are four French artillery pieces, ninety-three men and officers, 120 horses and ten mules in the battery.

The first section of a troop train carrying the Twentieth Infantry to Babine left Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, at noon. The second section will leave at 2 a.m. tomorrow. The unit comprises two companies besides thirteen officers.

The soldiers probably will reach Babine late Sunday.

One squadron of the Seventh Cavalry was ordered to proceed from Hachita, N. M., to the Culiacan frontier, near the international border and at the point where Gen. Penning entered Mexico in 1916. The squadron's mission is to observe conditions in that vicinity and to patrol the border from Hachita to Douglas, a distance of approximately sixty miles.

It was announced at corps headquarters earlier in the day that one platoon from the First Cavalry with two machine guns has been ordered to proceed from Camp Marfa to St. Helena, Tex., in the Big Bend country.

Red Cross disaster workers to the State.

While Red Cross chapters were preparing appeals for funds and Gov. Farnell was sending out urgent requests by radio for contributions, the Red Cross disaster staff at Newport, in charge of Albert Evans of St. Louis, was completing its organization for relieving suffering.

A special train from Little Rock took six nurses and a number of physicians into the area today. Many of the injured in the Switzville casualties were in immediate need of surgical attention. One hundred units of antitetanus serum also were taken to Newport and Batesville for immunization.

Another special train took tents and other supplies to Batesville for the hundreds of homeless at Guion, which was literally blown away.

Many of the dead were buried today, group funerals being conducted at most places.

CURTIS BOMBARDED WITH QUESTIONS OF MARRIAGE

WASHINGTON, April 12. (P)—"P.S.—Why don't you get married?"

In the hundreds of letters which poured into the office of Vice-President Curtis during his controversy with the State Department over the social status of his sister and designated hostess, Mrs. Edward Everett Gamm, this naive suggestion was found more than once.

The idea always struck the broadly developed sense of humor of the Vice-President, but his only response was a chuckle and an occasional reflection that marriage is one of those things that is easier said than done.

Now that it is all over and he has won for his sister equal recognition with himself at official dinners, which was denied her by the ruling of former Secretary Kellogg, the usually quiet Charles Curtis is realizing that his first declaration as Vice-President created a real stir.

Just looking over his increasing stack of mail is enough to convince him that he has said and done something which, at least, has attracted attention.

Session of Congress. "This was made clear at the White House today. It is said that both departments now are engaged in a study of the best means of carrying out the President's desire to place enforcement under the Attorney-General and that for this reason, if no other, it will be impossible to have the matter presented to the special session.

There is, however, a more pertinent reason why this question will not be pressed at the special session. The President desires that Congress shall limit consideration as closely as possible to the subjects set forth by him in calling the special session. These are farm relief and limited tariff revision. To this end leaders of the House have agreed to limit organization of the House to the committee necessary to handle these subjects only.

COUPLE FOUND SLAIN IN OWN FRONT YARD

FORT WORTH (Tex.) April 12. (P)—Frank Hendricks and his wife were found shot to death in the front yard of their home at Reno.

WASHINGTON, April 12. (P)—The first evidence of a contest on farm relief at the special session of Congress developed today as spokesmen for the Senate and House agriculture committees expressed opposite views on the advisability of writing the export debenture plan of national grange into the new agricultural bill.

A group from the House committee called on President Hoover at the White House to lay before him a draft of their new farm bill and at the same time told him they believed a majority of the house members to be opposed to the debenture plan.

The Senate committee heard lengthy testimony from experts of the Agricultural Department on how the debenture plan is working favorably in Norway and Germany and chairman McNary said after the meeting that "the members were very much impressed by the experts' showing."

Subsequently half a dozen members of the Senate committee expressed themselves as believing the committee will approve the debenture proposal as part of the McNary bill unless some specific declaration opposing such a move is

WASHINGTON, April 12. (Exclusive)—Curtis D. Wilbur of California, former Secretary of the Navy, will be reappointed next Monday to be judge of the new Federal Court of Appeals for the Ninth District. The court has jurisdiction over Federal cases in California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Arizona and Hawaii. The new office was created in the closing hours of the Congress which adjourned March 4, last. President Coolidge sent to the Senate the nomination of Wilbur, but it was too late for confirmation, and therefore it will be necessary for President Hoover to renominate him. His name will be sent to the Senate Monday with several other important appointments to various Federal posts. Both Senator Shortridge and Senator Johnson have indicated that they will expedite confirmation.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur now are in Los Angeles after a vacation of several weeks in Florida and other parts of the South.

Lamont Opens Investigation of Rubber Pool

WASHINGTON, April 12. (P)—Secretary Lamont has undertaken an informal inquiry within the Commerce Department as to the status of the American reserve for crude rubber, organized a few years ago by large consumers in this country at a time when foreign monopoly of the product was engaging attention. Congressional inquiry as to the reserve, more generally known as the "rubber pool," occasioned the Secretary's action.

At the time the American movement was initiated, an examination of East Indian rubber producers with British imperial government support, was engaged in restricting production. These restrictions were abandoned last year.

Last Honor Paid to Bishop Brent

LAUSANNE (Switzerland) April 12. (P)—To be buried simply and without ostentation was one of the last wishes of Bishop Charles H. Brent of the Episcopal diocese of Western New York. Yet today many nations, religions and institutions spontaneously joined at his funeral in a reverent tribute to his greatness.

His own country was first in the long line of mourners today. Returning Ambassador to England, Alanson B. Houghton of the bishop's own diocese, came especially from Germany to pay a last tribute to his friend, while Hugh R. Wilson, Minister in this country, joined in the official American tribute. Several American consuls in Switzerland also were present, both at the church and the cemetery.

TO STUDY BILL

President Hoover, they said, proposed to over the measure to-night and confer with them again tomorrow. The subcommittee intends to write any changes that may be suggested by the Chief Executive into the legislation before the measure is called up in the House.

After leaving the White House, the subcommittee visited Secretary Hyde at the Department of Agriculture to study the bill. They also urged him to suggest any changes he felt should be made.

Both President Hoover and Secretary Hyde were informed that the legislation had been approved unanimously by the five members of the subcommittee which drew it up. This group was headed by Chairman Haugen and included Representatives Furness of Indiana and Williams of Illinois, Republicans, and Aswell of Louisiana and Kinchloe of Kentucky, Democrats.

WILBUR TRACES POLICY ON OIL

Secretary Writes Letter to Western Governors

Conservation Moves Made for Future Benefit

Permit Exceptions Viewed as Impractical Now

WASHINGTON, April 12. (P)—Secretary Wilbur informed Gov. Dorn of Utah, Gov. Emerson of Wyoming and Gov. Adams of Colorado today that in his opinion the Hoover oil conservation program will be of great future benefit to the whole country with no section benefitting more than the Rocky Mountain States.

The Secretary's communication to the three Governors was in answer to a joint letter written to President Hoover on March 30 discussing the new Federal oil policy, which Mr. Hoover referred to the Interior Secretary for answer.

"It is, of course," the Secretary wrote, "the instruction of the President and the desire of myself to deal fairly with permittees; and any action will not be taken where equities have accrued and where development has been undertaken in good faith."

PROGRAM GENERAL

"The government's program, however," he continued, "will be general in its scope as the distribution and use of oil is not confined to areas where actual production occurs. The simple purpose of the government is to reserve as much oil as possible against the time—unfortunately not distant—when our national supplies diminish."

Mr. Wilbur said he is hopeful today that with readjustments following the inauguration of the present policy, the anticipated hardships which were outlined in the Governors' letter would not occur, and that there would be no material injury to any particular section.

GOVERNORS ANSWERED

The Governors had suggested that recognition of equities which may have been established, both in applications for permits and in existing permits through expenditures of money, provided a situation affording a sound basis for development.

The Interior Secretary's answer to this was that it had been incorporated into the present policy so far as existing permits are concerned.

It never has been the practice, however, he said, to recognize equities in applications for permits arising out of expenditures made before the permit has been issued. The number of instances where such equities might legitimately be claimed, he added, are believed to be so rare that an exception to the rule would not seem to be advisable under the present policy. If applicants have undertaken to drill on the public domain before they have been granted a permit, the Interior Department officials contend they have done so upon their own responsibility and without authority of law.

HINTS WELCOMED

Mr. Wilbur said the Governors' suggestion that consideration of equities of permittees as to preference right to lease the remaining area covered by permit in addition to the 25 per cent made mandatory under the law had been answered by a recent announcement which declared that unless it was determined that such a lease is for public interest it will not be made.

"I shall be very glad," Mr. Wilbur wrote, "to keep in mind the situation with reference to the Rocky Mountain States as outlined in your letter, in the future consideration of the oil policy. I hope you will feel free to make other suggestions from time to time as developments occur."

SMITH TO VISIT CALIFORNIA FIRST

WASHINGTON, April 12. (Exclusive)—California will be the first State visited by George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, who will confer with Gov. Young. It is the plan of the board to get each oil-producing State to pass appropriate legislation to prevent the waste of oil and then ask Congress to pass such legislation as will enable the Federal government to co-ordinate the work of the States.

On his return from California Mr. Smith will visit Oklahoma, Texas and probably other of the oil States in the West.

Plain Hats Cut French Imports

WASHINGTON, April 11. (P)—Women's penchant for plain felt hats last year might have eased the load on their husbands' pocket-books, but it hurt the artificial flower trade between France and the United States.

Smaller demand for hat trimmings is blamed by the Department of Commerce for a decrease in imports of artificial and ornamental flowers from the Paris consular district from $1,055,122 in 1927 to $671,482 in 1928.

CARNEGIE FUND CHIEFS SCORED

Ineptitude of Foundation Management Stressed

Pension Expert Denounces Bankruptcy Cause

Tells Ohio Gathering Why Help Plan Failed

COLUMBUS (O.) April 12. (P)—Monell Sayre, international pension expert, asserted in an address to-night that the extraordinary ineptitude of the management of the $300,000 Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has brought the organization to a state of virtual bankruptcy.

Mr. Sayre is executive vice-president of the Protestant Episcopal Church pension fund and pension adviser to the Church of England, the Federal Reserve system and the Brotherhood of Disciples of Christ.

His address was made at a dinner given by members of the brotherhood in connection with its campaign for $400,000 to establish a pension system for ministers of Christian churches.

AS TO BANKRUPTCY

Newspaper articles were published recently saying that, beginning May 1, the Carnegie Foundation will make radical reductions in its pension payments to retired ministers.

"It is of vital importance to churches and other organizations conducting or planning pension systems," said Mr. Sayre, "to show the public that these repeated bankruptcies of the Carnegie Foundation are not due to any inherent weakness in pension systems themselves, but to the extraordinary ineptitude of the foundation's management."

MORE FUNDS PROVIDED

"In 1915," he said, "ten years after its establishment by Andrew Carnegie with a gift of $10,000,000 to provide pensions for college professors, the Foundation in effect confessed bankruptcy. It repudiated promises to professors then under 48 years of age, but continued its promises to those over that age by receiving $15,000,000 additional from the Carnegie corporation. New teachers coming into colleges and universities were remitted to an insurance company created by the foundation."

"This meant that either there had been no actuarial calculations provided for the establishment of the Carnegie Foundation's pension system or that such actuarial calculations, if made, had been done imperfectly."

Impeachment of Long in Tangle

BATON ROUGE (La.) April 12. (P)—The fight over the impeachment of Gov. Long shifted today to the Senate, where a debate arose over whether the House still was legally in session and the second indictment charging bribery of legislators should be accepted.

The House failed to take a vote today on further impeachment charges.

The first impeachment count charging intimidation of C. F. Manship, Baton Rouge publisher, was delivered to the Senate before the special session expired.

LANSING (Mich.) April 12. (P)—Believed to have been caught in the collapse of a coffer dam at the South Logan street viaduct here today, four men are missing and two are thought to have been drowned. The missing men were members of a crew of eight working below the dam about thirty feet under the water level.

Two members of the crew were rescued and taken to a hospital. The river, swollen by recent rains, placed tremendous strain on the dam and caused the collapse without warning.

WAUKEGAN (Ill.) April 12. (Exclusive)—For the third time in four years an effort is being made in court to get a jury to decide what constitutes a proper fit for a set of false teeth.

Dr. John P. O'Connell, a dentist, is seeking to collect $300 from Mrs. Sarah Olavay for false teeth sold her five years ago. The woman asserts that the fit was not proper and she refused to pay, while the dentist maintains she did not give the teeth a fair trial. The two previous juries were unable to decide the question.

Canton Authorities Wage Campaign on Radicalism; Martial Law Prevails

CANTON (China) April 12. (P)—More than 1000 asserted radical agitators are estimated to have been executed by machine guns during the past week in a campaign by the Canton authorities to stamp out radicalism here.

Accused of instigating Communist agitation, thirty students of the Nationalist Sun Yat Sen University were arrested, court-martialed and shot. The Sun Yat Sen University, a co-educational institution, has long been declared a hotbed of radicalism by the local authorities.

In back of the current tension is the "declaration of independence" issued early this month by Canton, in which the city's independence of the Kwangsi military clique was openly declared. The local authorities have expressed fear that the Kwangsi group might use the radicals as a means of stirring up disorder in Kwangtung. So great was this fear that the local authorities decided martial law and troops now are patrolling the streets.

England Makes Smallpox Fight

(Copyright, 1929, by New York Times) LONDON, April 12. (Exclusive)—An army of health officials is being hurriedly mobilized here to fight an outbreak of smallpox of what is declared to be the worst type, that had its origin in a single case aboard the anchor liner Tuscania while on a voyage from Bombay to Liverpool.

More than thirty cases, directly traceable to the Tuscania outbreak, have been reported from various parts of England and there have been five deaths. A seaman first was discovered with smallpox at Marseilles where he was put ashore and soon died at Liverpool where all the Tuscania's 600 passengers debarked, a second case was discovered. The ship was fumigated, declared clean and sailed for Glasgow but ten more cases were discovered among the crew.

SILVER CITY (N. M.) April 12. (P)—James McAlpine, treasurer of the United States Copper Company, was instructed by District Judge Doniphan here today, to return to the company 1,191,993 shares of company stock.

H. E. Ball, Fred F. Kuehn and Merritt H. Schaeffer, stockholders, charged in a suit against the company, McAlpine and others, that McAlpine illegally appropriated without the knowledge of the stockholders or directors, that amount of stock.

The case grew out of the stockholders' meeting in March, 1928, in which the plaintiffs charged that McAlpine voted that amount of so-called treasury stock in order to continue himself in control of the company.

Goodyear Plans Los Angeles to Honolulu Service

Ships Leave Saturday Night and Return Wednesday

Pacific Route Selected as Safe and Profitable

NEW YORK, April 12. (Exclusive)—The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company feels it is perfectly practical to run zeppelin type airships to Los Angeles and Honolulu, Paul W. Litchfield, president of the corporation, told members of the New York Bond Club at their luncheon meeting in the Bankers' Club today.

After commenting on the development of radio, the invention of the light-weight gasoline engine and the ability to recover the condensed gases from the fuel consumption by mixing with air and forming water and taking it back as ballast for the ship—all of which have made airship travel safe and practical—Litchfield said:

"We are only waiting for the development of a number of these large ships that we are building to make that very evident need of the most ideal places to do it is the route from California to Hawaii, where the wind and weather conditions are ideal for airship transportation. And we feel it is perfectly practical and safe and will be profitable to run these ships leaving Los Angeles on Saturday night and getting to Honolulu on Monday and back in Los Angeles on Wednesday night."

"When that can be done you can imagine what traffic there will be built up along these lines."

The airships we are building for the Navy are two ships three times the size of the Los Angeles and two and a half times the size of the Graf Zeppelin. I want to call your attention to the fact that the Atlantic has been crossed five times successfully by dirigible with ships much smaller, much weaker and much slower than the ships designed for that purpose today. These two Navy ships are of 6,500,000 cubic-feet capacity."

SHOT EVENS FEUD SCORE IN MEXICO

Asserted Former Priest Slain by Relative of Executed Insurgent

MEXICO CITY, April 12. (P)—Guadalajara dispatches to Excelator today said the hands of vengeance had reached out and taken the life of an asserted former priest named Vega, evening the score for his recent execution of Victoriano Ramirez, alias "El Catorce," co-leader of a band of Jalisco insurgents.

Vega and "El Catorce" were charged by government officials with having been leaders of the band who on April 20, 1927, burned a Guadalajara-Mexico City passenger train, killing fifty-four men, women and children. The bandits are said to have locked the doors of coaches, set them afire and shot those who tried to escape through the windows.

Vega, Excelator's story said, was shot dead Wednesday night at Hacienda Guadalupe, near the town of Arandas, Jalisco, by a cousin of "El Catorce." The assassin escaped by horseback amid a hail of bullets from the dead man's followers, said to number more than 100.

Senator Seeks Mooney Release

WASHINGTON, April 12. (P)—Release of Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings from the San Quentin (Cal.) prison, where they have been confined for thirteen years on a charge of dynamiting a Preparedness Day parade in San Francisco in 1916, is demanded by Senator Schall, Republican, Minnesota, in the May issue of Plain Talk. He contends the two were "framed."

He urges that they be freed on the ground that President Wilson saved them from the gallows and they since have been declared wrongfully confined by the trial judge, the State Attorney-General, the assistant District Attorney who aided in the prosecution, two captains of police who prepared the evidence and ten of the conviction jurors who survive.

NIPPON MOURNS FOR COUNT GOTO

"Elder Statesman's" Career Ended by Death

Ex-Foreign Minister Dies of Cerebral Stroke

Official Friend of Hoover and Boy Scout Head

KYOTO (Japan) April 13 (Saturday) (P)—Count Shimpel Goto, former Foreign Minister, died here today. The 72-year-old statesman, who had continued his active career to the end, was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage the 4th inst. while on a train coming here from Tokyo.

Count Goto was educated at home and in Germany as a physician, but his career ranged from being the first president of the South Manchuria Railway, a semigovernment undertaking, to the Foreign Ministry.

He received his first Cabinet portfolio, that of Communications, in 1908 and later held the post of Home Minister. In 1918 while Japan was at war with Germany he became Foreign Minister and to his lot fell the difficult task of deciding the Japanese attitude toward the former German colonies and concessions in China which had been captured.

He was known as a man of great action and advocated outspoken, if not always open, diplomacy for Japan. He early was a leading advocate of Japan's recognizing the Soviet Union and his insistence upon this in recent years had made him a "stormy petrel" in Japanese politics.

Man on Horseback Robs Gas Station, But Motor Cops Get Him

REDDING, April 12. (Exclusive)—A bandit on horseback held up a gasoline service station here last night, and then was captured by deputy sheriffs in an automobile. The asserted highwayman, who discovered he could not successfully mix old methods and modern times, is Peter Stone.

Riding up to the station on a black stallion in regular Jesse James style, the bandit stuck the muzzle of a gun in the stomach of the service station proprietor, Wilbur Grant, and demanded money. He got only $2.

Count was one of the few honors marking the recent enthronement of Hirohito. He visited the United States three times and was a friend of President Hoover. Elihu Root and other distinguished Americans. He was the leading organizer of the Boy Scout movement in Japan and was president of the national organization. His daughter married Yasuke Tsurumi, a publicist, who is well known in America.

MRS. KENNEDY FLINGS RETORT

Answers Clark Charges Through Attorney

Says She Aided Minister as Down-and-Out

Indignantly Repudiates Imputations

SEATTLE, April 12. (P)—The association of Mrs. Minnie E. Kennedy with Rev. H. H. Clark, Seattle minister, by whom she was sued for $50,000 for breach of promise were made public here today in a statement issued by her attorney, John S. Robinson.

"The statement sets forth that Mrs. Kennedy first met Clark in a cafeteria here and that he was the one who made the advances which led up to their conversation. He spoke to her, Robinson said, of his religious and lecture work and also of his financial troubles. Mrs. Kennedy's interest in Clark, Robinson said, was solely to "help a down-and-out."

Clark's version of their meeting was that Mrs. Kennedy had forced herself upon him in a second-run motion-picture house and that she had persistently sought his company and urged him to marry her. He charged that they had kept trysts at Seattle hotels.

Robinson said Mrs. Kennedy frequently registered at hotels under the name of "Mrs. M. C. Clark" because she has long been prominent in the public eye, "so much so that she is at all times importuned by all sorts of cranks, beggars and

CROSSING HELD TOO PERILOUS

New York Watchman Quits; Gates No Protection Against Motorists

NYACK (N. Y.) April 12. (P)—The West Shore Railroad put a new gateman at the notorious "death crossing" in West Nyack today, the third in six weeks.

Twenty-four minutes later he quit the job, after a motorist had crashed through the crossing gates, the fifth occurrence of the kind in six weeks. It's too dangerous a crossing—for gatemen—he, E. H. Keating, explained in resigning.

An accident there recently resulted in two deaths.

Mrs. Kennedy, Robinson said, had on one or two occasions received Clark in her hotel suite and that without her prior knowledge, he had once spent the night at the same hotel where she was staying. But he indignantly repudiated the implications drawn from these associations by Clark in his damage suit.

VATICAN HOLY LAND

Archbishop of Canterbury Defers to Rome

Holy See Feels Effects of Visit

Delicate Situation Exist in Jerusalem

LONDON, April 12. (P)—The Daily Telegraph today said the recent cancellation of the proposed visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury to Jerusalem and the Holy Land was in accordance with the wishes of the Vatican.

The English prelate, it was said, recognized the delicate religious situation in the Holy Land and when he realized that his projected trip there would be with some misgivings, he decided to defer the visit. The Archbishop's visit was planned the visit as a pilgrimage to the Holy Land, which was a severe winter storm.

"The paper said it understood the Vatican received reports from the Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem, Mgr. Marcellino, that such a visit from the Archbishop of Canterbury, for the time since the restoration of the Holy Land, was not based primarily of the religious relations between the two churches and various other factors.

With this new attainment, exclusive to Union Ethyl, you obtain the peak performance the designer of your car intended. You are assured a minimum of 500 pounds pressure per square inch on the piston head of your engine, instead of a maximum of 300 pounds, the old way. You secure the extra mileage that only a perfectly functioning motor can guarantee.

An Ambition Realized

Lyman Stewart and W. L. Harrison, the pioneers who founded the Union Oil Company in 1883, laid down this principle:

"It will be the mission of Union to produce the best petroleum products known to science."

In "success-tested" Union Ethyl is manifested the fullest expression of that ideal.

Delicate Situation Said to Exist in Jerusalem

LONDON, April 12. (AP)—The London Daily Telegraph today said that the recent cancellation of the proposed visit of the Archbishop of Canterbury to Jerusalem and the Holy Land was in deference to intense wishes of the Vatican.

The English primate, the paper said, recognized the delicate religious situation in the Holy Land, and when he received intimations his projected trip there was regarded with some misgivings by the Holy See he abandoned it. He had planned the visit as a part of a cruise he is making about J. P. Morgan's yacht while he recuperates from a severe winter illness.

The paper said it understands the Vatican received representations from the Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem, Mgr. Barile, that he was much disturbed at the prospect of such a visit from the head of the Church of England for the first time since the reformation. The apprehensions, it was said, were based primarily of the existing relations between the Anglican communion and various eastern orthodox churches.

THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA
TAKES PLEASURE IN Announcing
A GREAT NEW GASOLINE-PLUS ETHYL

STANDARD ETHYL

*The finest Gasoline
we have ever offered to Pacific Coast Motorists*

In making the bold statement that Standard Ethyl Gasoline is the finest motor fuel we have ever sold to Pacific Coast motorists, the Standard Oil Company of California speaks seriously. It is.

You now, therefore, have the choice of two fine gasolines—Red Crown, the Gasoline of Quality, used by more motorists than any other on the Pacific Coast, and—now—Standard Ethyl, a premium motor fuel of extremely high quality. Standard Ethyl is, first of all, a gasoline entirely new—the finest the Standard Oil Company has ever sold to motorists. The gasoline alone is easily worth the 3-cent premium at which Standard Ethyl is sold.

You can tell the difference in your car—no matter what car you drive, when you use Standard Ethyl.

To this really supreme gasoline we add Ethyl Anti-knock Compound, for two reasons. First, the number of high-compression motor cars on the Pacific Coast is now large and increasing. Second, Ethyl in its present improved form is a successful anti-knock compound for the highest compressions now in use. For every car, Standard Ethyl is a premium fuel. New or old; high-compression or low—any make and any year—the car you drive will be a better car—and you will notice it—when you drive with Standard Ethyl. At all dealers where you see the Standard Ethyl sign.

New Zion-Mount Carmel Highway in Southern Utah Nears Completion

One of the Most Spectacular Pieces of Highway Engineering Ever Accomplished, the New Zion-Mount Carmel Highway in Southern Utah, will be opened to travel early this summer. Included in the construction is the longest tunnel outside a city in the United States—a two-way, illuminated bore one and one-eighth miles from portal to portal through an unsealed mountain. In the above photo the dotted line indicates the course of the tunnel through the rugged and picturesque cliffs. At five points galleries have been opened in the face of the cliffs, permitting views of many of the scenic features of a scenic district. The new highway is part of the regular Southern Utah Arizona national parks tours of the Union Pacific.

Complete Card Announced for Wrigley Bout

BY PAUL LOWRY

George Blake's arrival from Australia and the weighing in of Acapulco before Commissioner James Woods yesterday were the leading developments of the impending Huddell-Blaire round Emanuel bout at Wrigley Field Monday night. Blake arrived just in time to make Commissioner Woods' selection of a referee for the fight an easy task. Until Blake's sudden entrance the issue after a six months' search with Fidel La Barba to replace the naming of a referee seemed to be a serious matter. The Emanuel camp was violently opposed to certain individuals. So the Huddell camp.

NO OBJECTION

But there can be no objection to Blake from either side. His reputation as one of the best referees in the country has been established in a twenty-five-year period. In his refereeing bouts before Huddell, his fighter, was a promoter who had long been a friend of the officials of the Blake camp.

"Of course," said Commissioner Woods yesterday, "Blake is a referee and we will have to select a referee for the fight. But who is a manager cannot select a referee's license. However, that has been done in the case of Blake, and there will be no trouble on that score."

Commissioner Woods suspended Huddell to permit Blake to referee the Huddell-Blaire fight at Wrigley Field over a year ago. At that time Huddell was a professional—Capt. Seth Stirling—suspended the rule several times when he was a commissioner in favor of Blake. In order to remove all doubt that

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE
Johnny Arneill of the Los Angeles Country Club shot a 75 yesterday to lead at the eighteen-hole mark in the Ojai Valley Country Club fifty-four-hole medal play invitation tournament. He is favored to win the event.

Louis Medley of Ojai was second in yesterday's play with a 76, and Ralph Hutchinson of Ojai shot a 77. Other low scores turned in at the scratch to 6 handicap division were Frank Stevens, Jr., 78; J. P. Keilher, 84; and Jack Burnham and A. J. Buchanan, 84.

Harry Pardee of the Ventura Country Club was low in the second division, 7 to 10 handicap, with a well-played 80. He was trailed by Jim Westerveld, Roy Jones and Harry Duker, 83; and R. M. Moser, Ben Kerr and S. W. Hietel, 84.

In the third group, 11 to 14 handicap, W. S. Goodrich of Hollywood led with an 83. He was the only one in that group to break into the 80's. W. A. Crane, 85; Fred Knight, 84; and Tom Patterson, 85, were low.

Jackie Mandell outpointed Red Rumburgh to take the decision in the six-round semi-final. The boys were at it hammer-and-tongs all the way, with Mandell having a very tight edge. At the end of the second round, a change was made in the referees, Benny Whitman substituting for Bert Eberling. Eberling pulled a boxer in the special event, when he raised Bobby Herman's hand over Frankie Aragon. Aragon was the first five rounds, while Herman staged a wild rally in the sixth, which influenced Eberling to give him the bout. The fans were so aroused over the raw decision that they filled the ring with programs, paper, peanuts and pop bottles, at the same time shaking the rafters of the Hollywood Legion Arena with their yells of derision.

SEATTLE WALLOPED BY MISSIONS, 11-9
SEATTLE, April 12. (AP)—The Seattle Indians used three pitchers in an ineffective effort to turn back the San Francisco Missions here today, but dropped the game to the visitors, 11 to 9. The Indians made a final drive in the ninth inning which netted them 4 runs, but not enough to win. The Missions also launched a drive in the first of the ninth, driving in 3 runs.

SENATORS BOW TO SEALS AGAIN, 6-2

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12. (AP)—The base hits that were so noticeably missing for the first two weeks of the season continued to click from the bats of the Seals today and the San Francisco club pounded out its fourth straight victory over the Sacramento Senators, 6-2. Hollis Thurston, right-hander, held the Senators to five scattered hits and contributed to his own team's runs with a homer and a single that drove in another runner. Jimmy Moore, Sacramento second baseman, was the only one to get a hit, a single, off Thurston. An extra feature was furnished by Gene Jolley, lumbering outfielder and home-run artist of the Seals, who beat out a bunt and stole second.

Bakersfield Nine Victors

BAKERSFIELD, April 12. (AP)—Home runs and errorless play by the Bakersfield Bees were the principal factors in their 13 to 6 win over the Orange county club of the Class D baseball league today. Tomlinson got a homer in the opening inning with two men on, while his teammate, Porter, poked another in the seventh.

Joe Dundee Beaten By Mello In Ring

BOSTON, April 12. (AP)—Joe Dundee, welterweight, dropped another decision to El Mello of Lowell here tonight at the Boston Garden's charity show. The champion, trailing at the end of the last three rounds, tried to gain victory by a knockout but his opponent was much too strong.

Compton Scores Win

COMPTON, April 12. (AP)—Compton High School's league-leading baseball club maintained its position in the Bay League yesterday afternoon by taking victory in a diamond contest played in Long Beach. Errors on the part of the beach city nine gave the contest to Compton, whose players utilized six hits for six runs, and the ball game by the score of 6 to 2. Score:

Strangler Takes Bout

PHILADELPHIA, April 12. (AP)—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion, tonight threw Pat Magill of Ireland with a body slam after 10. 20m. 43s. of wrestling.

Glendale Junior College, winner of the dual meet championship of the western division of the Southern California Jaycee Conference, is favored to win the all-conference meet, which is to be held today on the San Bernardino cinderpath.

Thirteen teams are entered in the carnival, which is to close Jaycee track activities for the year.

Along with Glendale, Compton, Pasadena and Riverside appear to be the only squads that stand a chance of winning the meet. Glendale is exceptionally strong in the track events, while Compton excels in the weight events. Pasadena is strongest in the hurdles and middle-distance runs at the mile and 1.5 mile.

Compton is expected to score heavily in the weights with Charley Orr and Dick White competing. Orr has bettered the conference records in the shot put, discus and javelin and is favored to score fifteen points in these events. His best marks are 43ft. 6in. in the shot, 138ft. in the discus and 173ft. 10in. in the javelin. White also has thrown the shot over 43ft. and may beat out his team-mate, Beatty, of Glendale. Forbes of Long Beach and Lang of Fullerton will furnish plenty of competition for the Compton men.

Zelman of San Bernardino, Walker of Glendale and Massey of Fullerton are the best of the lot in the quarter and half-mile runs. Ferris of Glendale, Gamba, of Compton and Averil of Pasadena are favored in the four and eight-lap sprints. Henry Lashette of Citrus, J. C. former Puente High School star who went to Boston in the Olympic trials last year, is favored in the high jump. He has done 6ft. 4in. consistently.

Jeddy Welch, Pasadena star, should win the hurdles, although he will have to step to keep ahead of Billy Gail of Long Beach. Gail holds a win over Welch in the low sticks and the Pasadena men will be out for revenge.

At last a new and still better Eastern oil for the motoring West

Haven't you noticed—that the faster you drive, the more oil you use?

Fast driving shows up the real quality of an oil

Speedway tests prove that the New Mobiloil outlasts other oils of equal viscosity at high speeds. That is why the New Mobiloil keeps the first-year feel in your engine.

A race track is the proving ground of the New Mobiloil. On the Atlantic City Speedway these oils have stood up under the most grueling tests.

Stock models of many cars were used—all fitted with special recording instruments. These instruments were to write the story of the New Mobiloil's performance in the most practical laboratory in the world—the crankcase of an average automobile being driven at high speeds for hour after hour.

What story did the instruments tell? After thousands of miles of high-speed running in many cars, it was proved beyond a doubt that the New Mobiloil stands up better and lasts longer than other oils of equal viscosity generally sold for these cars. And it is an established engineering fact that the oil which lasts longest and stands up best at high speed, will lubricate best at any speed.

The New Mobiloil is a scientific achievement, proved both in the laboratory and on the road. Drain and refill regularly with the New Mobiloil, as recommended on the Mobiloil Chart, and you can preserve your engine's first-year feel for at least 30,000 miles. Actually, our tests have shown that the New Mobiloil has preserved the first-year feel in many engines for more than twice this distance.

THE BOY WITH ONE ARM
Those who live here say that the dedication of the school was rather a touching event. The corner-stone was laid by a little boy who had lost one arm in a previous revolution. He was assisted by a little girl who was selected because her mother was the poorest woman in town; and by a poor who lost count of his age when he reached 80. He was selected as the oldest man in town. All the Mexican poems in town were proud to the bursting point of the schoolhouse.

Two Brokers Arrested on Julian Petroleum Usury Charges, Opening Drive Against

TRIAL AS TEST ACTION HINTED

Spring-Street Pair Each Give $1000 Bond

Council's Special Fund of $5000 to be Used

Business, Social and Screen Circles Involved

C. C. Streeter and Max Slossberg, Spring-street brokers, last night were arrested on usury charges in connection with the money-lending case that preceded the collapse of the Julian Petroleum Corporation two years ago.

Streeter was held on three counts, while Slossberg was charged with two. Each man was released on $1000 cash bond.

The arrests were made on "John Doe" warrants issued yesterday by City Prosecutor Nix in an opening legal battle to bring to trial 143 men said to have charged more than the legal 12 per cent when they doled out money during the stock manipulations that tossed the Julian organization into a financial mire. Both warrants were signed by Municipal Judge Boggs.

TEST CASE HINTED
Although Nix's office is said to be prepared to prosecute the entire group named in complaints filed in August, 1927, it was understood last night that Streeter and Slossberg will be tried first in an attempt to establish whether they can combat successfully the charges under the statute of limitations.

City Prosecutor Nix's campaign to prosecute the accused group follows the appropriation of $5000 by the City Council on the 2nd inst. after the city body had refused his request for a $25,000 fund with which to hire special counsel to conduct the prosecution.

Complaints on which yesterday's warrants were issued were prepared during the week of March 2, 1928, by Clark, employed by Nix to prosecute the case, all of which are made-memoirs.

CHARGES DISMISSED
Charges of criminal conspiracy to commit usury, made against forty-four defendants during the time that S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian company, his right-hand man, Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett and termed the "bright youngster" of Spring street, and others, were being prosecuted, were dismissed by Superior Judge Doran after a jury in his court had acquitted the principals of charges of conspiracy to violate the State Corporate Securities Act.

Among those listed in the 143 misdemeanor cases are many prominent in the business, social and motion-picture circles of this city. Several who were charged with illegal charges made restitution to the corporation of individual amounts running as high as $50,000.

OTHERS AWAIT TRIAL
Cecil B. De Mille, motion-picture director, now is awaiting trial on a misdemeanor usury charge, which is scheduled to begin May 27 in Municipal Court. Charles Banks, J. Forstner, I. Behrstock, Jack Rosenberg, L. A. Lewis and H. M. Haldeman are scheduled to go to trial June 17, on like charges.

Since the first usury complaints were drafted in August, 1927, following the lengthy investigation into the Julian financial muddle, the cases in some instances have been postponed several times and in others the defendants never have been called to trial.

The right to sue asserted usurious money-lenders by the A. C. Way & Co. was upheld by Superior Judge Yankwich on March 3, 1928, when Receivers H. L. Carnahan and Joseph Scott asked for a ruling on the matter. As a result of the ruling several thousand dollars in asserted usurious loan interest was returned to the company.

HIGH INTEREST RATES
Nearly a year before the collapse of the Julian company, testimony disclosed, the organization began to be entangled in the financial web that later was to result in the cash. At that time Berman, or Bennett, began the formation of money pools to take up stock which the State later contended was spurious.

MARY AND DOUG PLAN JOINT FILM

Screen Pair to Costar in Talking Presentation of Shakespearean Comedy

Definite announcement that Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks will costar in an all-talking picture, marking their first appearance together on the screen during their long and successful careers before the public, was made yesterday at the United Artists studio.

The "Taming of the Shrew" as the title for their point appearance, Sam Taylor is to direct and now is busy on the story and dialogue. He plans to get into production by the first week in June at the latest.

Reports current in Hollywood concerning their joint appearance were accompanied by rumors that this production also would mark the end of their film careers, but the announcement yesterday sets this talk at rest. It is said that the combination of the pair, who in private life are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, is coming to the screen only. Miss Pickford has under consideration a famous stage play, while Fairbanks has two stories in mind.

The combination does not affect either the Pickford or Fairbanks organizations, it is said. Fred Niblo has been assigned as business manager, while Lawrence Irving, said to be a grandson of Mr. Henry Irving, famous English player, is coming to this country to assist William C. Menzies in designing the sets.

Katherine in the play will play Katharine in the play while Fairbanks is to assume the role of Petruchio. Incidentally, this will be the first Shakespearean production to be attempted on the screen in many months.

CITY ENGINEERING PRAISED

Expert Offers Approval of Harbor and Streets; Traffic Handling Excites Admiration

Praise for Southern California engineers and particularly for Los Angeles engineers was given in no unstinted measure yesterday by Col. Frank A. Molitor of New York, internationally known consulting engineer, here on a business trip. Col. Molitor has spent the last four months in Mexico, having left Mexico City last Sunday for Los Angeles.

"The engineering features of your city are marvelous," public works here are not been here since 1906, declared at the Biltmore yesterday. "I think that of these your harbor is the best and your street system comes next. When one considers how rapid the growth of Los Angeles has been the excellent manner in which your entire city is planned is a credit to the city engineers."

Col. Molitor marveled at the manner in which pedestrian traffic is handled here. The way in which the people respond to discipline in the matter of crossing streets with the signals fascinates me. I doubt if the people of New York City respond so well to a system," he said.

The present political disturbance in Mexico is clearing rapidly. The Federalists are regaining all their lost ground, except for a small spot in Sonora, and there is little doubt but that they will be regained soon. Col. Molitor declared. The engineer was the representative of the international bankers' committee in Mexico in connection with railway matters, he explained.

 Nothing can be better than the Wall papers shown me this week past at Mathews Paint Company's Hill-street store. They were the latest in color, and some of the very latest following the "modern" trend toward the gorgeous and obnoxious good looking!

Mathews are always first with the new, but all covering is not new. The old is still their right. They have a large stock of the best of the old, and are able to assimilate inorganic substances and that any such substances taken into our system, are simply dehydrated and excreted, and that at some weak point and thereafter added to until such common ailments as indigestion, constipation, etc., then necessary to employ the unusual means of surgery in the removal of these substances from the system.

It is a fact, however, that the danger that you change your order after the first quart is half useless to a gain! Why every one who has been in the store with me so let me suggest that this very morning you call your grocer and order a quart of the wine. If he hasn't it call up the Italian Vineyard Company, 25 Mutual Bldg., and have it delivered. It is a fact, however, that the danger that you change your order after the first quart is half useless to a gain! New Zion-Mt. Carmel Road Soon to be Open

Heavy Tourist Travel on Route Expected

Federal and State Engineers Build Masterpiece

The new Zion-Mt. Carmel highway between Zion National Park and Mt. Carmel, in Southern Utah, will open to public travel early this summer one of the most scenic roads in the world. It also will be one of the most spectacular accomplishments of highway engineering.

The route will serve to lessen the road distance and driving time between Zion and Bryce, now 149 miles apart, to eighty-eight miles, and cut time almost in half. From Zion to the north rim of the Grand Canyon the road distance will be decreased from 142 miles to 126 miles and driving time reduced about one-third. The new highway will be an added feature of the regular Southern Utah and Arizona national parks tours of the Union Pacific. The Zion-Mt. Carmel highway will be viewed by visitors from the coaches now being operated in these sections.

Grand Canyon of the north rim, Bryce and Zion national parks, the Kaibab Forest and Cedar Breaks, will be joined closer by the road.

ROAD OF WONDERS

In addition to shortening routes, the highway itself becomes a major point of interest on the tour. A two-way illuminated tunnel 1 1/2 miles and an eight long (the long side of the tunnel) five "galleries" are side of an automobile and look out from a height of several hundred feet up a sheer cliff on the colorful formations of Zion National Park; six switchbacks; three and one-half miles of road to cover a distance of less than a mile, all without difficult driving. It is what the Federal and Utah State highway engineers, in co-operation with the National Park Service, have accomplished.

There was drama in the building of the highway. The tunnel involved new problems in engineering. No human being ever had been at either of the points where the two portals of the tunnel now stand, until the plans for the tunnel began to be made.

BORE THROUGH CLIFF
Moreover, no one ever has scaled the mountain through which the tunnel goes. Instead of laying out the line of the tunnel from above, the engineers had to tunnel their way from a footpath at the base of the cliff, in some places 300 feet below where the tunnel was to be.

When the engineers found that it was impractical to start the tunnel at either end, they started in between—erecting a scaffold high up the face of the cliff, and started drilling in. When they had got in to the point where the tunnel was to be, as determined by the survey from the footpath, they began boring in either direction from that point, and the tunnel proper was then drilled into the face of the cliff at other points and started similar headings and after months of labor all these headings were brought together into a consecutive tunnel, with never more than 3-100 of a foot of variation from where they should be. Finally also—from inside the cliff—the east and west entrances to the tunnel were opened.

GALLERIES MADE

Those points where the original borings into the side of the cliff were made have been widened into galleries where several motor cars at a time may pause and occupants get views of the cliffs of Zion National Park.

The view from one of the galleries includes Pine Creek at one of its most interesting points as it bed to speak at that point is a "box" canyon, 400 feet deep and hardly more than a score of feet wide at the top.

After rains, water tumbles down through the canyon, beneath the overhang, but in ordinary weather a man can walk up the floor of the canyon until its towering walls come too close together for him to pass.

UNSCALED PEAKS
Other galleries look out on the East Temple, the almost perpendicular front of which rises nearly 4000 feet from the bed of the creek. One of the many Zion Park mountains that have never been scaled—and on other formations quite as striking.

The highway and one of the switchbacks at one point were moved over several feet to preserve what is known as the sandwich rock—two great boulders with an open space between them just about the right relative size for a slice of ham.

Everywhere the highway has been planned to harmonize with the surrounding country.

The west end and one-half miles of the road, in Zion National Park, which includes the galleried tunnel, is being built by the United States Bureau of Public Roads for a cost of $1,500,000. The east fifteen and one-half miles is being built by the State of Utah at a cost of $600,000.

MYSTERY LETTER CAUSES SEARCH FOR "PRISONER"

Just what has happened to U. H. Forrester, 29-year-old disabled World War veteran and oil-well supply salesman, is what Miss Bertha Honeycutt of 1172 Twenty-first street, San Diego, asked Captain of Detectives Allen to find out yesterday.

Miss Honeycutt admitted to Allen that Forrester has a wife, but she understood the marriage was to be annulled. Because of a mysterious letter she has received she suspects that he is being held against his will in some hospital in Los Angeles, she said.

The letter, which she received through the mail, written in pencil on a torn magazine cover, reads as follows:

"Sweetheart: Can't something be done to help me. I fear they will bump me off before I can get away from here. I don't know where I am at. My window faces the southeast and I can see the top of the City Hall in L. A. Am going to drop this and pray God some one will cause my escape. If there is a God and prayer is answered, I will hope to see you again. As soon as the train left S. D., a big guy decreased from 142 miles to 126 miles and driving time reduced about one-third. The new highway will be an added feature of the regular Southern Utah and Arizona national parks tours of the Union Pacific. The Zion-Mt. Carmel highway will be viewed by visitors from the coaches now being operated in these sections.

Grand Canyon of the north rim, Bryce and Zion national parks, the Kaibab Forest and Cedar Breaks, will be joined closer by the road.

HOUSE FINISHES FARM-AID BILL

Debuture and Equalization
Plans Defeated
Hoover's Approval of New Measure Asserted
Congress Ready to Begin
Extra Session

WASHINGTON, April 13. (P)—With Congress ready to convene in extraordinary session for the primary purpose of carrying out campaign promises for farm relief, the House Agriculture Committee late today turned its thumbs down on two farm-aid proposals long advocated at the Capitol—its debuture export plan and the twice-vetted equalization-fee principle.

The committee voted, 17 to 3, against incorporation in the new farm measure of the debuture plan supported by the National Grange and then a few minutes later expressed its disapproval of an attempt to revive the equalization fee so objectionable to Calvin Coolidge. The vote against the fee was 17 to 3. This action is regarded on the House side as clearing the situation and it is the opinion of leaders that the decision of the committee will be sustained if an attempt is made later to revive these proposals in the House. At the Senate side of the Capitol little sentiment has been manifested for reviving the controversy over the principle, but tonight some doubt exists as to what position might be taken on the debuture plan, which has found favor there in the eyes of many.

TARIFF REVISION
The balloting by the House committee virtually completed work on the new farm measure. It is the plan of Chairman Hugen of the committee to introduce the bill as soon as the House convenes. It is expected to be known as bill No. 1. The House committee has been checking over the membership of the Senate and have come to the opinion that the debuture plan would have a good chance of winning in the Senate itself if the Democrats made an issue of it. The House committee has been checking over the membership of the Senate and have come to the opinion that the debuture plan would have a good chance of winning in the Senate itself if the Democrats made an issue of it.

CONFERENCE WITH HOOVER
The House measure has been represented by members of the Agriculture Committee as having the approval of the President. It was laid before him yesterday by the agriculture subcommittee which drafted it and after studying the bill last night he conferred again with them today. Members said he suggested several minor changes, but in general approved of the measure. The committee today revised the bill to conform to Mr. Hoover's wishes.

Although the text of the bill has not yet been made public, it follows the program outlined in the Republican platform and by Mr. Hoover during the Presidential campaign. This program called for a Federal farm board that would have at its disposal a revolving fund to use in making loans to co-operative marketing agencies and stabilization corporations that would be set up if requested by the producers. These corporations would seek to eliminate violent price depressions by taking surplus products off the market and feeding them back gradually as the needs of the market might demand.

On the Senate side of the Capitol, administration leaders have shown some concern over the program. The Senate committee on Agriculture has been studying the bill and is expected to report it in time for the House to act on it. The Senate committee has been checking over the membership of the Senate and have come to the opinion that the debuture plan would have a good chance of winning in the Senate itself if the Democrats made an issue of it.

GOES TO SENATE
Elected first to the fifty-second Congress he was returned successively for four more terms, from 1891 to 1901. He then sought a seat in the upper house, twice was unsuccessful, in 1901 and 1907, resigning from the Senate in 1912.

The lawsuit in which Senator Bailey was apparently was that the State of Texas is suing the Red River Bridge Company to force discontinuance of the collection of exorbitant tolls. The district courtroom was filled to capacity, the crowd attracted possibly more by the presence of the great orator than by the case at issue. The former Senator had been animated and to some degree jocular in talking with friends during the morning sessions, but his face had just been repelled to a legal argument of R. M. Tilley, Assistant Attorney-General for Texas, when death occurred.

The former Senator's first wife died several years ago, and he married Mrs. Prudence Rosenroff of Austin, December 21, 1927. He leaves Mrs. Bailey, two sons and a grandson, Joseph W. Bailey, Jr.

MAROONED SCOUTS SAVED

Four Young Boys and Two Older Ones Saved After
One Falls Off Cliff to Death

CHEWELAH (Wash.) April 13. (P)—Four Boy Scouts, their Scoutmaster and his elder brother were returned safely home today, after clinging all night to a cliff, starting down at the dark death that had claimed the life of the seventh member of the party.

ROPE LET DOWN
At midnight they were rescued by a party of 150 men who let a rope down the 300-foot cliff to them. The Scoutmaster, Don Hutchinson, 21, and his brother, Paul Hutchinson, 22, suffered slightly from exposure but the other boys were unhurt. The names of the lads are Pat Hayes, Chas. Palmer, Robert Nurse and William Elsenman. Their ages average 12.

The courage of Paul Hutchinson, a Associated Press correspondent, "I didn't get nervous exactly, but I got very cold. Paul kept his head all through it and helped to comfort the boys about it. They became frightened when it got dark."

A shift in national prohibition administrators for Southern California and Arizona, in which the present administrator, Maj. Frank R. McReynolds, becomes chief field office supervisor for Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona and Hawaii, was announced in dispatches from Washington last night.

GREAT TEXAS ORATOR DIES
in abeyance pending the arrival of relatives. Marked by his picturesque dress as well as nationally noted for his oratory, Mr. Bailey was at one time the United States Senate's outstanding opponent of prohibition and woman suffrage. He held out against them, he frequently said, because he regarded them as evils in themselves, but because he saw in them an encroachment on State's rights, his fundamental political principle.

COUPS ESSAYED AT HARDY TRIAL

administration official, and this has caused a wave of gossip. A number of mystery men have invaded the hotel lobbies in the past week, their missions being clothed in secrecy. One wore a raincoat and all have flat feet and vibrant ears. A person has seen a brace of these individuals scurrying away from his door upon "pening it suddenly."

TALK OF DETECTIVES
Former Senator Carr and Ray Nimmo of defense counsel, vigorously deny that they have detectives here in their employ. Judge Hardy said he had heard much talk about detectives in the lobbies and corridors.

WASHINGTON, April 13. (P)—Two views of the impending contest in Congress over the tariff were given to the nation over the radio tonight through the Washington Star's forum showing the Republicans are lined up for limited revision and that Democratic sentiment is growing for a general readjustment of schedules.

FEW CHANGES
He indicated that the measure will provide for changes in levies only on those products considered new in industry since the 1922 law was enacted and those industrial and agricultural commodities which have suffered from foreign competition due to economic changes in the last seven years.

PROTECTION NEEDED
Hawley said the last seven years had seen remarkable developments in production, trade and commerce, and that, in line with the policy that America should be for Americans economically as well as politically, the tariff bill is being framed on the American standpoint, with "attention being given to the value and importance of exchange of materials with foreign countries."

GRIDIRON HOT UNDER HOOVER

Correspondents' Club Has Fun With President

Distinguished Guests See Policies Satirized

No Quitting Time Scheduled for Cabinet Group

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP)—A cumbersome vehicle trundled out at a dinner of the Gridiron Club tonight was characterized "the Hoover machine," and proved to be one of several mediums utilized by the dining club of Washington newspaper correspondents for its periodic satirizing of events the members have been reporting.

President Hoover, who headed the list of prominent guests, spoke at the conclusion of the dinner, but, in accordance with a club rule, his remarks were not reported. The only other speakers were Chief Justice Taft and Gov. Roosevelt of New York.

HIGH HAT MECHANICS
Several distinguished guests saw themselves personified by club members in the skits which ran with good-natured raillery. Vice-President Curtis, Secretary Stimson and Mellon, Atty.-Gen. Mitchell and Senator Borah were represented as attendants of "the Hoover machine." They were dressed as mechanics and surveyors, but wore high silk hats.

The reign of satire was begun with a crash outside the dining hall which quickly was noted by Roy A. Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star, who had just been installed as president of the club.

"Great heavens, what was that terrible noise?" asked the new president.

In rushed a club member to explain that it was "Mr. Hoover, conserving another Coolidge policy."

IMPORTANT LANDING
The pseudo Mr. Mitchell announced that the engineers had landed on Pennsylvania avenue at last, describing it as "the most important landing in American history since the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock. Corbett landed on John L. and Hoover land in the G.O.P."

Secretary Stimson suggested that, for a Democrat, Mr. Mitchell had landed pretty well himself. Attempts to manipulate the "Hoover machine" to formulate policies approved by the respective principals were futile. One formula dropped in the huge hopper on behalf of former Secretary Work read: "The past policy of the Department of the Interior in making off leases is hereby approved," but on coming out it said: "There will be no oil lease in this administration. Herbert Hoover."

NO QUITTING TIME
The Vice-Presidential actor produced a letter calling Cabinet members to the White House to discuss carrying forward the Coolidge policies. "There just ain't going to be any quitting time in this administration," signed Mr. Stimson, and Mr. Borah asserted he knew what he was doing in staying out of the Cabinet.

STARS GROWING IN SIZE

Meteors Falling Upon Them Make Up for Loss Through Radiation, Harvard Finds

CAMBRIDGE, April 13. (AP)—A little thing that went unnoticed for several years in photographs of the spectra of stars is the source of a discovery that many stars seem to be growing. It is explained in a Harvard observatory circular by Dr. Harlow Shapley, director.

Certain dark lines, across these pictures, which show the presence of iron and magnesium in the stars, are very prevalent among the bolter stars. Iron and magnesium are two of the elements common in meteors. Special methods of analysis applied to these lines led the Harvard astronomers to conclude that they come from meteors falling upon the stars.

In that part of the heavens where stars are most numerous, there are dark spaces called dark nebulae, attributed to masses of meteors and meteoric particles. The bands on the photographs are heaviest in those regions of the sky where these dark clouds are thickest.

continued, "where there is no efficiency and time means nothing." The Senate in special session, with Mr. Curtis supposedly presiding, was portrayed for the club's guests. It was midsummer and still no farm bill had been considered. "The Senate," said the Vice-President, "will come to order and try not to be too damn dumb."

SENATE ADJOURNS
As the by-play proceeded, Senator Watson, the Republican leader, announced he had been informed that a truckload of Embassy liquor had been seized in front of the Capitol. He moved a recess of thirty minutes, which was carried with cheers.

In addition to the President and Vice-President, the guests included Secretaries Mellon, Stimson, Good, Wilbur, Hyde, Lamont and Davis; Atty.-Gen. Mitchell and Postmaster-General Brown; the ambassadors and ministers from nearly a score of foreign nations; the Governors of New York, Maryland, Virginia and Wisconsin; the Republican and Democratic leaders of the Senate and House and numerous other members of Congress. Nationally-known publishers and business men also were among the guests.

Three new active members were initiated as club members. They are George Rothwell Brown, of the Washington Post, Mark Thwaites, of the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, and Robert R. Lane of the Newark News.

A committee of club members headed by John Philip Sousa presented an engraved scroll to Herndon Morrell of Washington to commemorate completion of his fourth year as music director of the club.

Dismissal Denied in Slander Suit

NEW YORK, April 13. (AP)—Supreme Court Justice W. H. Black today denied a motion to dismiss the $500,000 slander of title suit brought by Mrs. Andre Lardoux Hahn of Kansas City against Sir Joseph Duveen, art collector, over the origin of her portrait, "La Belle Ferroniere," which she ascribes to Leonardo da Vinci. Justice Black restored the case to the general calendar for retrial.

A jury recently disagreed.

INMAN WINS HIS BATTLE FOR DIVORCE

Sensational Trial Ends in Verdict for Him as Jury Stays Out Six Hours

RENO (Nev.) April 13. (AP)—Walker P. Inman, wealthy New York and Atlanta man, today won his fight for a divorce from Mrs. Helene Garnet Patton Inman, daughter of a Kokomo (Ind.) clergyman. A jury early this morning returned a verdict in favor of Inman, who charged that his wife abandoned herself to liquor and other men.

Attorneys for Mrs. Inman announced they will appeal to the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Inman contested the divorce, asked that she be given the decree and demanded $250,000 alimony. Under the verdict, Mrs. Inman will receive an annual allowance of $15,000 for five years. This is in accordance with a separation agreement made two years ago.

The decision, which came after six hours of deliberation, brought to an end three weeks of sensational testimony during which Inman, a son of Mrs. James B. Duke, widow of the tobacco magnate, produced several witnesses who testified to his wife's participation in drinking parties and escapades with other men.

John Steele, singer, was mentioned often in the testimony as an ardent admirer of Mrs. Inman. Witnesses for the husband testified that they had seen Mrs. Inman intoxicated on several occasions and referred to incidents aboard the Inman yacht in which Mrs. Inman and other men were mentioned.

HOOVER VACATION BID VOTED IN MINNESOTA

BLAIR RESIGNS REVENUE PLACE

Commissioner Asks Hoover to Find Some One Else

He Wants to Get Rest and Regain Lost Health

Three Being Mentioned as Possible Successor

WASHINGTON, April 13. (Exclusive)—David H. Blair, who for eight years has been commissioner of internal revenue, has tendered his resignation to President Hoover and it will be accepted.

Mr. Blair is getting out to rest, recuperate from an illness and to attend to private affairs in North Carolina, where he has large real estate and cotton-mill interests.

When asked about his action today Mr. Blair declined to comment; he would neither confirm nor deny the report that he is quitting.

Mr. Blair was one of five or six candidates for the bureau of internal revenue job which pays $10,000 a year.

This position is a difficult position for Mr. Hoover to fill. He and Secretary Mellon want Mr. Blair to stay on the job but he is eager to get out and take a long rest. He has not fully recovered from an operation performed last year.

Three names are being mentioned in connection with the place to be made vacant by Mr. Blair about May.

They are: William C. Clegg, collector of internal revenue for North Carolina; Robert H. Lucas, collector of internal revenue for Kentucky and Joseph K. Moyer, now chairman of the special advisory committee of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Mr. Blair came in soon after the Harding administration took office. His nomination was opposed by Senator Hiram Johnson, but Senators Simmons and Overman, Democrats, North Carolina and all but a few of the Republicans favored confirmation, and Mr. Blair won by an overwhelming majority.

Minnesota Rail President
Granted Privilege by Legislature

ST. PAUL (Minn.) April 13. (AP)—W. H. Gemmell, president of the Minnesota and International Railroad, may now travel free on his own railroad by special act of the Legislature.

When Gemmell was elected a regent of the University of Minnesota, he found that as a State official he was barred from accepting or using railroad passes.

To save him the trouble of taking the price of a ticket from one pocket and putting it in the other the Legislature has passed a law giving him the privilege of riding on his own line for nothing.

FROM INDIA

Inquiry Commission Off
for England Following
Completion of Labors

BOMBAY (India) April 13. (AP)—Sir John Simon and the members of his commission for Indian statutory investigation sailed for England today, having completed their work in India.

Sir John telegraphed Lord Irwin, Indian Viceroy, thanking him "for countless kindnesses from many quarters," and adding:

"We have accomplished the first stage of our task and we will enter on the next stage with an ever-increasing desire to contribute what we can to the happy future and good relations between Great Britain and India."

Lady Simon said at her departure: "When the women of India take their place in the public life of the country then will the true greatness of India be known to the world. I am very much impressed with their efforts to do so."

The Simon commission was appointed to investigate conditions in India with a view to bettering the status of the Indian native element and even conferring some future degree of autonomy upon them. From the time of its arrival at Madras February 26, 1928, until its departure there were manifestations against the commission by Indian nationalists.

GIFT GUITAR BRINGS JOY TO YOUNG KING MICHAEL

BUCHAREST (Rumania) April 13. (AP)—Seven-year-old King Michael, who displays great talent for music, has been presented with a hand-made guitar as a gift by the children of Rumania.

So pleased is the little sovereign with this gift, which is composed of 12,920 pieces of the finest mahogany, that he goes stammering about the palace to the delight of his mother and his court entourage.

The guitar is embellished with a royal crown inscribed with mother of pearl and bears a striking likeness of the juvenile monarch in mosaic.

When King Michael goes to bed he insists on having on one side his favorite dog Mumbo. He now is practicing popular English and American tunes on the guitar so as to surprise his grandmother, Queen Marie, when the latter returns from her sojourn in Spain.

SHINA COURT DENOUNCED

Scandals Grow Worse Daily

Large Business Houses at Mercy of Corrupt Union Employees

Both Domestic and Foreign Capital Alarmed by "Squeeze" Tactics

BY HALLETT ABEND

SHANGHAI, April 13. (Exclusive)—By day the scandals centering about the Shanghai Provisional Court increase in number and in seriousness; day by day Chinese civil and military authorities openly interfere with attempts to administer justice; and yet day by day the shocking government grows more complacent upon the surrender by the foreign powers of those extrajurisdictional rights which, if given up, would put all foreigners in China at the mercy of corrupt Chinese officials.

The matter has become so serious that M. Rastrelli, the Italian who was the senior Consul at Shanghai, filed a long brief which, in the light of the history of the Shanghai terms, reviews the history of the Chinese judges and the Chinese civil and military sources.

FLAGRANT CASE

One of the flagrant cases had to do with the case of the Sun Sun Store in Shanghai. The Sun Sun store is one of the largest department stores in Shanghai and on Nanjing Road it faces two others, the Sincere and Wing On establishments.

The Sincere and Wing On companies are incorporated in Hong Kong and are, therefore, under British law and have the vital protection of extrajurisdictional rights. The Sun Sun promoters made the patriotic mistake of incorporating under Chinese law and have accordingly been subjected to the "squeeze" tactics of the Chinese government.

HARRED BY STRIKES

The Sun Sun store has since the middle of the year been closed repeatedly by strikes, and in these times the social-affairs bureau of the Kuomintang party has taken a keen interest. The store has been closed only by re-employment of discharged employees who had been caught in thefts and other offenses and has been forced to accede to demands which make a mockery of its business. The strikers have even demanded the resignation of managers and the "last word" has been that of the Kuomintang party.

The Kuomintang party have even demanded the resignation of managers and the "last word" has been that of the Kuomintang party. The strikers have even demanded the resignation of managers and the "last word" has been that of the Kuomintang party.

CAPITAL SCARED

This extraordinary phase of development is scaring both Chinese and foreign capital, for the Kuomintang, though merely a political party, actually dominates the government and sets itself up as superior to the government. In the Sun Sun case a branch of the party pretends to dictate to a government department, and it dictates direct, as a government department, not through any intermediary.

There are other cases beyond the Sun Sun case which have been made the basis of official foreign protests and which it is directly charged that the Kuomintang officials or generals have used the punishment of convicted criminals.

The Provisional Court at Shanghai is China's "model court," composed directly under the daily government of foreigners, and is undoubtedly the best court in the country. With as to probity, freedom from outside interference and freedom from "squeeze." And yet the Kuomintang of the Provisional Court is the daily newspapers.

extrajurisdictional were given up to China or next year all foreigners in China would be compelled to live under similar conditions of maladministration.

Not only would foreign business and foreign persons be virtually confined to "legal" methods, but there would be no personal security for foreigners here. They could be executed at the whim of any military or civil official, or could be jailed for interminable months without any hearing. Today any Chinese who as he pays the authority more holding the prisoner than the prisoner can pay for being given his liberty.

Rail Body Will Quiz on Passes

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13. (AP)—The State Railroad Commission today held a hearing May 9 to determine whether it will issue a general order regarding the issuance of passes on common carriers of the State.

The investigation grows out of reports that companies, principally from Los Angeles, have been making away large numbers of passes in violation of the Public Utilities Act.

Essex the Challenger sweeps aside the barriers of price class. It challenges the performance, the style, the luxurious roomy comfort of any car at any price, on the basis that no other gives you back so much for every dollar you put in. That is why *the big buying

ALLIES' DEMAND TO BE REVEALED

Berlin Believed Willing to Pay $8,000,000,000

Creditors Reported to Want $12,500,000,000

PARIS, April 12. (AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the German Reichsbank and chief German negotiator, today heard with the impatience of a sphinx the number of billions of dollars in reparations which her creditors still expect Germany to pay on account of damages done by the German armies during the World War.

How many these billions are and in what form it is proposed they be paid may be known on Monday if the experts decide, as was suggested today, to publish the Allied proposal in full in order to correct speculative figures which have been circulating through the press.

Dr. Schacht's impatience in the face of these formidable amounts is accounted for in Allied circles by the fact that whatever may be the outcome of the efforts to settle the vexed question of reparations, the demands upon Germany will be much reduced from the $33,000,000,000 which the reparations commission fixed in 1922 as the total the Reich must pay.

How much of that original sum will be reduced, the experts themselves were unable to tell because the amounts presented today as the creditors' demand are still subject to discussion on bargaining and they are likely to be reduced still further since the Germans are felt certain to make counter proposals which would call for a compromise between the reparations debtor and creditors.

The German ideas as to the final amounts are known to be in the neighborhood of $8,000,000,000. The Allies it is known, will certainly demand more than that and as nearly as can be estimated on the known elements in the situation will ask somewhere between $10,000,000,000 and $12,500,000,000 present value, payable with interest in fifty-eight annuities.

Walker Resigns State Position

SACRAMENTO, April 13. (AP)—Gov. Young today was in receipt of the resignation of George Walker, State Building and Loan Commissioner.

Walker, who has held the office for more than seventeen years, said he wishes to enter private business. The Governor is understood to have urged him to reconsider. The resignation will become effective some time during the summer.

WAR CLAIM PARLEY SECRET

White House Conference of Cabinet Officials Deals With German Questions

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP)—German reparations and American claims against Germany were the subject of a protracted White House conference today between President Hoover, Secretary Stimson, Secretary Mellon and Undersecretary Mills.

While House officials said afterward there was no statement to be made and both the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Treasury declined even to say what had been discussed at the longest meeting of the Chief Executive's staff with members of his Cabinet since from the regular semi-weekly sessions.

In the absence of specific information several unofficial suggestions were advanced, chief among them that the scaling down or remission of the $34,000,000 owed by Germany to the United States for maintenance of the American troops on the Rhine after the armistice had formed the subject matter.

Another was that there had been considered proposals for the reduction of American claims against Germany awarded by the mixed claims commission as a result of losses sustained by Americans both in life and property in the sinking of merchant craft by German submarines during the war.

However, the suggestion most generally accepted was that the armistice in the cost of maintaining the American army of occupation had been canvassed. One report was that some instructions were being prepared for the unilateral American delegates to the reparations commission conference.

The report apparently arose out of prolonged conferences which Secretary Stimson and Undersecretary Mills held at the State Department after the White House meeting ended.

WAR CLAIM PARLEY SECRET

White House Conference of Cabinet Officials Deals With German Questions

WASHINGTON, April 13. (AP)—German reparations and American claims against Germany were the subject of a protracted White House conference today between President Hoover, Secretary Stimson, Secretary Mellon and Undersecretary Mills.

While House officials said afterward there was no statement to be made and both the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Treasury declined even to say what had been discussed at the longest meeting of the Chief Executive's staff with members of his Cabinet since from the regular semi-weekly sessions.

In the absence of specific information several unofficial suggestions were advanced, chief among them that the scaling down or remission of the $34,000,000 owed by Germany to the United States for maintenance of the American troops on the Rhine after the armistice had formed the subject matter.

Another was that there had been considered proposals for the reduction of American claims against Germany awarded by the mixed claims commission as a result of losses sustained by Americans both in life and property in the sinking of merchant craft by German submarines during the war.

However, the suggestion most generally accepted was that the armistice in the cost of maintaining the American army of occupation had been canvassed. One report was that some instructions were being prepared for the unilateral American delegates to the reparations commission conference.

The report apparently arose out of prolonged conferences which Secretary Stimson and Undersecretary Mills held at the State Department after the White House meeting ended.

Four-Day Regatta for Two-Mast Boats Announced by Southern California Association

TWENTY-FIVE WILL ENTER

Events Will be Held Over Various Courses

Special Race is Planned Off Santa Monica

Arrangements Completed for Power Cruiser Dash

A four-day regatta handicap sailing race open to six and eight-masted, K's, and all classes of two-sticks, was announced yesterday by the Southern California Association to start at Los Angeles Harbor, May 30. Twenty-five or more yachts will be entered, it was said.

The fleet will race from San Pedro light to the Isthmus Cove, Catalina Island. Anchoring there for the night, the boats will head for Dume Cove on the mainland the second morning. The next day, which will be Saturday, they will sail to Santa Monica and race over a triangular course in front of that city, returning to Dume Cove anchorage for the night. The program for the final day will be a run from Point Dume to Santa Monica light, but the course will lead inside of the buoy off Santa Monica.

The object of the race off Santa Monica is to provide a three-mile breakwater in front of that city, which, if completed, will cost several million dollars but will provide the finest recreation harbor in the world. It has the backing of the chambers of commerce of Los Angeles, Hollywood, Beverly Hills and Santa Monica and these organizations have asked the yachtsmen of Southern California to make a demonstration of the sport of sailing.

Detailed arrangements for the power cruiser race from Los Angeles Harbor to San Francisco the 25th, 26th and 27th will be for the St. Thomas Lipton trophy were also completed yesterday by the Clive Regatta Association. Only a pair of entries had been signed yesterday but the committee reported that at least eight owners were seriously considering the event. The boats signed for the Paul F. Johnson's eighty-two-foot Seydlitz of the California Yacht Club and A. N. Macrae's sixty-nine-foot Zoa of the Long Beach Pacific Coast Yacht Club. Announcement was made that both Santa Barbara and Monterey yachtsmen have arranged dinners and celebrations for the regatta. The schedule calls for the boats to complete the run in three days, laying in at Santa Barbara on the first night and at Monterey Bay the second night.

Lee Miller, chairman of the racing committee, said yesterday that the Coast Guard cutter Albatross will convey the yachts in the 274-mile race, according to a wire he had received from the department.

YACHTSMEN PLAN "LARGE" AUGUST

Local yachtsmen are planning to make August the big regatta month of the Pacific Coast, following an announcement yesterday that the ninth annual Southern California Yachting Association regatta, that is to be staged at Santa Barbara August 12 to 17, was stamped with the official O. K. at an association dinner held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club Friday evening.

An ocean sailing race for all classes of cruising yachts has been scheduled to start at Santa Barbara at the close of the program there and arrive in San Francisco about the time of the opening of the Pacific Coast championship regatta, which is to be held at the Bay City from August 20 to 31.

The first week in August will be marked by a regatta at the Isthmus, Catalina Island, by the newly formed South Coast Yachting Association, of which Dr. J. Park Douglas is commodore. The member club of this association are the Catalina Island Yacht Club and the California Yacht Club.

Clem V. Stone of the San Diego Yacht Club, who won the 1938 ocean race to Honolulu last year, has been named chairman of the Southern California Yachting Association regatta committee.

Sagehens Win Over Aztecs in Net Play

Racket wielders of Pomona College severely trounced upon the San Diego State Teachers' College yesterday to the tune of 9-0 in an official Southern Conference dual net tilt. The victory was the third straight triumph of the Claremont squad in as many weeks, maintaining its clean slate, and placing it in the challenging position against Occidental for the circuit title when the squads meet Saturday at Pomona.

Capt. Levan Zerbe, stellar lead-off man and captain of the Sagehens, turned back Hugh MacArthur, first smelter at San Diego, 6-3, 6-1. Donald Bent, the former Franklin luminary, conquered Morgan Elliott in handy fashion, 6-2, 6-3. Scott Hahn, Lee Mills and Ted Campbell also chalked up singles wins, and both doubles teams of the Sagehens came through with wins.

The summary:

SINGLES
Bent (P.) defeated MacArthur (S.D.) 6-3, 6-1.
Hahn (P.) defeated Elliott (S.D.) 6-2, 6-3.
Mills (P.) defeated Morgan (S.D.) 6-2, 6-3.
Campbell (P.) defeated Bent (S.D.) 6-2, 6-3.

DOUBLES
Mills and Zerbe (P.) defeated Bent and MacArthur (S.D.) 7-5, 6-4.
Hahn and Campbell (P.) defeated Bent and MacArthur (S.D.) 7-5, 6-4.

EDMONDS'S RISE SENSATIONAL

Golfer Develops Into Pole Vault; Then Blossoms Into Hurdler; Stanford Coach Thinks Star Could Be Great Gridiron Performer

BY BUD SPENCER

Holder of World's Record for 400 Meter Run

PALO ALTO, April 13.—He came to Stanford as a golfer. A lean, undeveloped kid who had the reputation of being a good mauler wielder appeared on the Stanford track in the early winter of 1928 to try out for the pole vault.

He had attempted to vault before at San Diego High, but in his school days at this school the biggest thing on his horizon was the Smith brothers, vaunters par excellence, who cleared the gold standard at 12 feet 6 inches.

That was the start of Ward Edmonds on the cinder path—or rather on the runway for his cinder-pat gallop in front of the crowd.

His rise as a vaulter was sensational—from 10 ft. to 12 ft. 6 in. in less than a year. As a freshman, he vaulted 12 feet 6 inches.

Then this pair would play golf the next day and Edmonds would proceed to defeat his coach without mercy on the fairways—as good a golfer as Templeton is.

Edmonds was always a great athlete but it was not until this year that he really developed enough to be a great hurdler.

The rise of Edmonds was sensational, even more rapid than as a vaulter. Last summer at Bowdoin College, Maine, while training for the Olympic trials with the rest of the Stanford team, Edmonds first attracted Templeton's eye. It was in the form of play to see who would win in the first race. Not and then Edmonds would awkwardly run over a hurdle or two, saying to himself:

"Watch me and you will learn something."

As unconscious as he was at that time, it didn't take a year to actually become a fact. In the early preliminary training, Edmonds took part in the lanky Stanford golf captain—and he had earned that honor by his spectacular golf—defeated the Stanford star hurdler repeatedly in their practice races.

He improved fast in the high hurdles and at the same time was learning to hold the pole higher in the pole vault, which, according to Templeton, would make him a better vaulter than two hurdlers.

Nichols and Edmonds, worked hard in their preliminary season and always ran neck and neck in their practice races.

One day when the other hurdlers were at the start of the low-barrier race, Templeton told Edmonds to try the hurdle. The usual reply of any human being making the first attempt at anything was:

"I can't do it."

Edmonds carried out his coach's fond predictions against a stiff wind and the track and the hurdle was nothing short of remarkable.

Edmonds is a great natural athlete, but it was not until this year that he really developed enough to be a great hurdler.

The chief reason for his slow development on the cinder path was merely one of physical development.

OH, FOR A SOPH!

So, from getting championed San Diego county, this youngster developed into a hurdler in the best of the great times turned in by the Trojan.

Edmonds is a great natural athlete, but it was not until this year that he really developed enough to be a great hurdler.

Edmonds carried out his coach's fond predictions against a stiff wind and the track and the hurdle was nothing short of remarkable.

Edmonds is a great natural athlete, but it was not until this year that he really developed enough to be a great hurdler.

The chief reason for his slow development on the cinder path was merely one of physical development.

Pipal Plans Lectures on Lateral Pass

Coach Joe Pipal, grizzled track-and-field veteran at Occidental, who leads his Bengal epikeman East to night for participation in the Kansas and Drake relay carnivals, will not return with his charges but will arrive one week later by his loneome.

The cause of it all is the fact that Pipal is slated to deliver a series of lectures at an eastern university, the name of which he declines to divulge at this time, on the lateral pass. Pipal is considered an outstanding authority on this phase of football tactics on which subject he released a book some months ago.

Everyone interested in hockey any way is expected to get out and boost for the Comber benefit because it is for one of the most popular players who ever donned blades in the California circuit.

Although only a midget as far as hockey players go, Comber was one of the staunchest defense men in the league until he suffered a broken neck in a game with the Vancouver club, billed for the 22nd, 24th and 26th inst.

The Comber benefit game will serve as sort of a preparatory skirmish to put the Millionaires into condition for their important three-game brush with the Vancouver club, billed for the 22nd, 24th and 26th inst.

Comber proved his courage and daring time after time on the ice. He was a "little iron man" to the hockey fans and will be going to the game with a broken neck.

When Hollywood and Richfield met the last time in the game that decided the issue after a play-off, Richfield won, 1 to 0, in a nip-and-tuck game that was decided by Roy Riekey's goal just twenty-nine seconds before the final whistle. It should be just that sort of a game to interest the fans tomorrow night when they turn out for the double purpose of amusement and helping a game hockey player who is in hard luck.

Hollywood needs just such a game to put it on edge for Frank Patrick's Vancouver Lions, one of the most powerful aggregations in hockey and probably the strongest ever brought here for an international series. Vancouver showed its strength by shelling Los Angeles Canadiens of Montreal, 3 to 0, and the New York Americans, 3 to 1. Both the Canadians and Americans were beaten two straight games.

Boring clubs in Chicago, Ill., are banning mixed matches. This action is due to a riot in the Coliseum recently during the Jackie Fields-Young Jack Thompson fight. During a stampede, one man was killed and several others seriously injured while fighting to get out of the building.

The first race listed on the program is a two-lap American Legion dash, open to the three fastest cars qualifying.

Second race, ten laps, open to the eight fastest cars qualifying. Third race, fifteen laps, reverse handicap for ten slowest cars qualifying.

Fourth race, fifty laps, American Legion sweepstakes, open to twelve fastest cars qualifying.

Committee Gives Outline of Annual Observance

To foster one of the greatest gatherings of fathers and sons ever held on the Pacific Coast, and probably in the country, which is to be featured at Shrine Temple on the evening of May 1, next, during boys' week, co-operation has been offered the boys' week committee of the Council for the Promotion of Boys' Welfare by the Community Chest, Chamber of Commerce, Board of Education, Jewish Big Brothers, Catholic Big Brothers, Y.M.C.A., Woodcraft League, Boy Scouts of America, Parent-Teacher Association, Municipal Playground Department and a number of men's service clubs.

On that evening, which is designated as "boys' day in loyalty," the immense auditorium will be packed with boys, each accompanied by his father or male guardian. The program committee, of which A. Gray is chairman, already has enlisted many features of entertainment. A large part of the program will be assigned entirely to boys.

Man Tells Odd Tale of Abduction

Kidnaped in San Diego and Held Here, He States; Woman Informs Police

U. H. FORRESTER

A weird tale of how he was abducted more than ten days ago as a train was pulling out of San Diego for Los Angeles and since had been held captive in a building in this city, was told by U. H. Forrester yesterday.

First word of his asserted abduction was received by police from Mrs. Bertha Honeycutt of San Diego. The young woman came to Los Angeles with a note scrawled on the margin of a magazine cover in which Forrester wrote that he had been held captive for more than a week.

The self-asserted victim told Capt. Allen he was taken from his place of confinement yesterday by his captors, driven out to Onomia Park where he was released.

The published report that she and Forrester are engaged to be married was denied by Mrs. Honeycutt. According to Forrester proceedings to annul his marriage were filed some time ago and he was expecting the final decree about the time he was "abducted."

RECALL STARTED REDLANDS AT SAN DIEGO FESTIVAL FINISHED

Opponents of Supervisor Circulate Petition
Removal of Tom Hurley Object of Action

Charges Made of Favoritism, Inefficiency

SAN DIEGO, April 13.—Expressing dissatisfaction with conduct of Supervisor Thomas M. Hurley of the Fifth county district affairs, a petition is being circulated in the district asking recall of the veteran Supervisor, it was reported today.

Supervisor Hurley, as special appointee of the Board of Supervisors to represent the board, is absent from the county with the "good-will" party now on tour in Arizona. He is now serving his second term, having won at the last election of his district by a substantial majority.

The petition is to be filed with the County Clerk, then delivered to the Board of Supervisors. It is stated, if sufficient names of voters are on the petition, the board is expected to order a special election to be held in about thirty days from delivery of the outer petition. Opponents of the incumbent Supervisor must provide a candidate to oppose him.

The petition is quoted as reciting: "We, the undersigned, each being a qualified registered voter of the Fifth Supervisorial District of San Diego county, California, hereby demand the recall of said Thomas M. Hurley, Supervisor of said San Diego county, California, heretofore elected by and from the said Fifth Supervisorial District of said county."

"And we further demand that the San Diego county Board of Supervisors do, without delay call a special election for the purpose of recalling said Thomas M. Hurley, Supervisor of said San Diego county and for the purpose of electing a successor to fill the vacancy created by said recall election."

"A statement of the grounds on which the recall is sought is as follows: 'Negligent use of county funds in connection with the building and construction of Bonnell bridge near Palmdale; inefficient and negligent use of county funds in connection with the care of county roads within his district and particularly at and near Vista and Palmdale; and willful negligence and inefficient failure to keep the county public highway open to the public, particularly at Encinitas and at Palmdale.'"

"On the further ground that he has not fairly represented agricultural land owners and has discriminated against ranchers and agricultural land owners in connection with the attempted and proposed Carlsbad sanitary district, to the prejudice of ranchers and agricultural land owners and to the benefit of Carlsbad residents and real estate speculators receiving and obtaining property adjoining said main county highway at Carlsbad."

"That he has shown favoritism to many and has been unfair to many of the constituents that he represented without respect to the merits of the case presented to him by them."

"The said foregoing statements are intended solely for the information of the electors."

ALHAMBRA VETERANS

GIVEN WAR MEDALS

ALHAMBRA, April 13.—Seven veterans of the World War are awarded "Verdun Defense" medals authorized by the French government. The medals were presented at ceremonies staged this week at the Alhambra in Los Angeles by the Los Angeles branch of the French War Veterans and the French Consul, Henri Didot, French Consul, acting as chairman.

Three of the seven ex-servicemen still reside in Alhambra. They are William J. Clark, William St. Mayhew and Earl Bunker. The others are Kenneth Wright of Los Angeles, Milton Kimball of Monterey Park and Robert Mulks and John McKay of Los Angeles.

The men are all members of the One Hundred and Seventeenth Engineers, known as the "Fighting Engineers," of the Red Cross. They were among the first Americans to see active service in France. Under French command they fought in the defense of Verdun and were later transferred to the A.E.F. where they also took part in several major engagements.

JUDGE CITES BIBLICAL LAW

Ventura Jurist Points to Sermon on Mount as Good Rule for Human Conduct

VENTURA, April 13.—"If the gentlemen involved in this case had paused to read 'The Sermon on the Mount' they might have settled in this matter," Judge Edward Henderson today told the plaintiffs and defendants in the suit brought against the Congregational Church by the Southern California Congregational Congress to collect $7500 which they assert is due them.

Counsel for both sides then asked for a ten-minute recess that they might read "The Sermon on the Mount," and the judge informed them that he did not feel that ten minutes was enough time to give to its perusal. They then asked for a recess in order to attempt a compromise. It was granted and the judge ordered, on their return, that the case be submitted to him on briefs.

The case grew out of a situation which arose when the Ventura Congregational Church was consolidated with the Ventura Presbyterian Church to form the Community Church here.

The congress had given $1475 to the Congregational church over a

Week of Flowers Ends With Elaborate Dance Pageant Saturday Evening

REDLANDS, April 13.—Redlands' first week of flowers came to a close tonight with the final flower dance pageant and the closing of the flower show. The dance pageant, by far the most elaborate and successful event of the kind ever attempted by the Community Music Association and its contribution to the week, packed the high school auditorium for two nights. It was a great success. It is estimated that several thousand flower lovers were taken on personally conducted tours through the gardens of Redlands during the week just closed. The Lions took them Monday, the Knights of the Round Table on Tuesday, Kiwanis on Wednesday, Rotarians on Thursday, the "Ys" men on Friday and the Chamber of Commerce today. H. S. Williamson, head of the committee, said "no party failed to come here with praise of Redlands for the trip."

The Community Players presented "Polly With a Past," the most successful play they have ever staged. All service clubs had special meetings, the Horticultural Society gave its flower show, the schools presented a floral pageant and the Community Music Association the dance pageant.

The dance pageant was a wonderful thing. Miss Charlotte Wade had charge. In the Grecian flower ballet there were eight dancers; in the Russian ballet, featuring the Lindes, there were ten dancers; in the English rose dance there were nine girls; in the Scotch thistle dance there were two boys; the cornflower of Germany was presented by seven girls; the Fleur De Lys of France by six girls; the Irish, Moravian, Dutch, Egyptian, Swiss, Mexican and Italian native dances. There were also dances and about 300 took part in the dance pageant, which was presented as part of the free entertainment program.

STOCK MARKET
PACE SLACKENS

Telephone, Union Carbide and Wright Aero lost about 2 points each. Chrysler and Radio each closed a point lower. Eastman Kodak and Webster Electric were among issues sagging to new lows for the year.

The commodities were generally firm. Cotton improved on favorable consumption figures for March, despite relatively easy Liverpool cables. Grains were firm in expectation of the agricultural relief program at the coming session of Congress. Raw sugar futures improved in expectation of an increased tariff.

Foreign exchanges were quiet but firm, sterling cables mounting to $4.80 1/2. Dutch guilders were in demand. The German mark, however, eased on the announcement of the repatriation demand.

Continental Air

Folkher Aircraft

At the time we first advised a large purchase of Continental stock was selling at $14. Recently it has sold at $19. We think it will sell higher. Listed on the New York and Los Angeles Curb Exchanges.

We have suggested the purchase of Transcontinental Air since it sold at $20. We believe that present buyers at today's prices will reap a splendid profit.

Principal stockholders in Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc. are said to be the Santa Fe and Pennsylvania Railroads and the Wright and Standard Airplane Companies. The company's executive personnel includes the illustrious Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh.

In combination with the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe, the company will operate a direct service from coast to coast, to open sometime between April and June. The first long-haul passenger planes will be used.

We believe that the inauguration of this service will cause the stock to advance in the price of this stock.

Listed on New York Curb Exchange.

REVOLUTION!

With amazing frankness, the greatest news story of today. Glorifying phrases are discarded for the vividly-told impressions of the most tumultuous era of the movies. Never before since the advent of the talking picture has the complete story of a turbulent filmland been told. Where are we going? ... What are we coming to? ... What do the scintillating stars of the silent drama think of this new genie of science? ... What do the men behind the directing and producing forces of the motion-picture industry think? ... What do YOU think about it all? ... Truly this is a story of a revolution. Within the past three years, as if by some overwhelming urgency, some magic force, the motion picture has acquired a voice. This new dimension has caused upheaval. There are two major sides to this story. There is the motion-picture creator's and there is the popular viewpoint. For the first time in the history of this new era, both sides of this question will be presented in an intelligent and unbiased story.

And as the imaginations and likings of the various guests were legion, almost every character of fairy and folklore, as well as stage and screen celebrities was charmingly carried out as well as well-known book heroes and heroines, the galaxy of favorites being most fascinating in its entirety.

From Tomm, Tucker who sang for his supper, to Salome, Juliette, Mistress Mary Quite Contrary, Old King Cole, the Four Musketeers, Little Bo-Peep and her lost sheep, Little Mary Jane, the Sunbonnet Babies, the Gorrilla and his victim, Puss-in-Boots, Rockabye Baby, French, Dutch, English and Italian dolls, Man in the moon, Hula Girls, Mummies, Jack and the Bean Stalk, Oliver Twist, Beanie Brooks, several Katie Greenaway girls, favorites from the Land of Oz, Pandora . . . in fact, every favorite character found its place in the picture.

As the ball took place in Pasadena environs, and the hour was 10 o'clock, there was plenty of time for the many dinner parties which preceded it, among the hosts being the former president of the Spinners, Mrs. Leonard Harbach (Betty Bettingen) who, with Mr. Harbach, entertained a merry party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. A charming coterie of Spinners gathered at the home of Miss Hon- or Higgins, motoring to the Wilshire Country Club for dinner and later joining friends at the frolic. They included Miss Margaret Eichelberg, Miss Dorothy Collins, Miss Florence and Mrs. Henry Bateman also were hosts to a group of young folk while Miss Dorothy Coffin and Miss Sue Frances Coffin entertained a merry group at the home of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Coffin, in Fremont Place, and Miss Helen Barry and Miss Katherine Thomas were hostesses at a dinner party at the home of the former in Fremont Place, motoring their guests afterwards to the Midwick.

There was a novel idea carried out also by not having a supper at midnight, but instead, from 3 a.m. on until 6 a.m., a delicious breakfast was served in the mountain cabins erected, the tables spread in old-fashioned red and white and blue and white gingham cloths, the coffee served in tin cups and the tables lighted by tall white candles stuck in bottles.

The whole clubhouse was transformed into a story-book shop, great posters of all the latest children's books being emphasized, the guests upon arriving being "shot" into the shop by a long slide, and in the sun porch, which was made into a nursery, all the toys imaginable were gathered from teddy bears to dolls, rattles and drums.

This is the fourth annual frolic of the Spinners and it was voted unanimously an immense success.

Miss Munson was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, while Mr. Lewis claims the same university as his alma mater and is a member of Zeta Psi Fraternity.

Mrs. Melvin Mann and Miss

Marion Willamon gave a lingerie shower the 6th inst., while the following day Miss Lorraine Woerner of North Harvard Boulevard, was hostess at a surprise party shower.

Miss Betty Claus of Glendale entertained at the Vine Tea Room with a personal shower Wednesday, the 10th inst., and there are numerous lovely affairs being planned for Miss Munson, the dates of which, however, are not yet definitely settled.

Smart Affairs

One of the smart affairs of the coming week will be the luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Douglas Williams Jr. is entertaining at her home, 438 South Mansfield avenue, honoring Miss Betty Richardson who has just returned from a winter passed in Washington, D. C., and Miss Stephanie Hillard of New York City, who has been at the Beverly Hills Hotel this winter. Miss Hillard is an alumna of Vassar College.

Patten, in the Music Room of the Biltmore Hotel, have reached the seventh of their ten performances of season in coming presentation of "Richard III" to be given next Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. As this is one of Mr. MacLean's brilliant character parts, it is predicted that his work will be one of the features of the evening. The capacity of the Music Room was drawn upon at the last fortnightly when Romeo and Juliet were portrayed by Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Miss Enid Bennet and it is expected that "Richard III" will also fill this salon. Intense interest is being manifested in these series which are doing so much to awaken the love of Shakespeare in the present generation. Always in the audience is a group of sincerely interested young students from the universities.

For the coming performance, Mrs. Guy Bates Post will play Lady Ann White, Mr. Fergus Reddie is included in the cast as well as Peter Richmond and Raymond Q. de Burgo.

WHAT SOAP SHOULD I USE IN THE WASHING MACHINE YOU SOLD ME?

WE TESTED THEM ALL—RINSO GETS CLOTHES WHITEST

The makers of 36 washers say "Use Rinso for whiter washes . . . and for safety"

Rinso
THE GRANULATED HARD-WATER SOAP

When the makers of 36 leading washing machines say, "Use Rinso!"—they know what they are talking about! They want women to be completely satisfied—to get the best possible results—and they know that Rinso's thick suds mean whiter, brighter washes.

Rinso is the famous granulated, hard-water laundry soap. It is so compact, one cupful gives more suds than two cupfuls of lightweight, puffed-up soaps.

And what suds! Thick, creamy, lasting—even in the hardest water. You don't need a softener. Rinso alone loosens the dirt. Clothes come from washer or tub so white, even boiling isn't necessary.

You can trust your finest cottons and linens to Rinso—it's safe. Get the BIG household package and keep it handy. For economy and best results, just follow the easy directions on the box.

For tub washing, too
Rinso is a great work-saver for those who have no washing machine. It soaks clothes whiter than they can be scrubbed. That saves the clothes, and the hands, too.

Try Rinso's creamy suds for dishes, floors, walls, bathtubs, basins. Makes all cleaning easier.

Many people think that the lovely waves of Renée Adorée's hair are natural. This charming Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, explains, however, that the naturalness of her soft, lustrous, flowing waves depends wholly upon the New Frederica Vita-Tonic Method of permanent waving.

There is one sure way of getting this same natural effect in wide, silky waves. When having your hair permanently waved, look for the name "Frederica Vita-Tonic" which is always imprinted on the wrapper used on each treat of hair.

Those shops which excel in their work have trained Frederica operators whose skill in permanent waving is unsurpassed.

NAMES DON'T CARRY MUCH WEIGHT NOW

'Desert Song' Brings About New Era in Filming Musical Comedies

The buying of successful musical comedies for the screen merely for the title and song theme of the piece is said to be a thing of the past.

With the purchase of "The Desert Song" by Warner Brothers and its triumph at Warner Brothers' Theater, where it is now on view, a distinctly new era is reached in the making of motion pictures as well as the production of talking films.

Many times the cinema rights of musical comedies have been bought for the screen by producers, but in the finished product all that remained of the original production was the title and the theme song. All the songs and other music that gave the musical show vitality, making it a desired hit, have been eliminated by the shortcomings of the silent motion picture. The producers merely capitalized on the title and relied upon the song theme to carry the illusion.

Now musical comedies and revues can be put on the screen with all the beauty of the stage production, enhanced by the actual singing of the songs that gave the original stage show its popularity.

CITIES CLAIM HER

Julia Faye lived several years each in Richmond, Va.; St. Louis Mo.; Richmond, Ind.; and Springfield, Ill., and all five towns claim her. Julia plays the featured role in "Dynamite." Cecil B. De Mille's first production for M-G-M.

SPECTATOR IS NOW PLAYER

Helene Millard, Once "Hottentot" Admirer, Now Acts in This Gay Farce at Majestic

A group of high-school students trooping merrily down to the Majestic Theater to see a performance of "The Hottentot," with Edward Everett Horton... This picture presents itself, not as a vision of tomorrow or next week, but of a day in the winter of 1921. For "The Hottentot" is a twice-told tale.

Horton stars in the comedy by Willie Collier and Victor Maps at the Majestic Theater. His leading lady is Helene Millard, who a little more than seven years ago dropped algebra and civics to join a party of merry-makers headed for that playhouse which then, as now, flung high the banner of "The Hottentot." The piece now having its revival opened its first engagement on December 4, 1921. The following morning, The Times commented in part upon it as follows:

TERMED "ANOTHER TRIUMPH" "The Hottentot" is more than mere farce. It has, besides its 100 laughs, a thread of crisp thrill and suspense... Altogether, another triumph for the Wilkes Stock Company, and a play you can't afford to miss. If you've seen Willie Collier in it, then it's a cinch you'll want to see it again.

The review ran on to eulogize the players; and among those singled out for praise besides, of course, the estimable Horton, was Mary Newcomb (in the role of Miss Millard currently assumes), Franklin Pangborn, Henry Hall, Christine Mayo, Mabel Seabury, Louis Morrison, Marie Curtis, Stanley Taylor, Sam Moran and Fred Cummings. The last-named once again participated in the hilarity, since he is among those listed in the cast.

This new cast is, completed by John Lel, Mary Forbes, Florence Roberts, Melvyn Harris, Louis Morrison, Louis Williams, David Calkins and Harrison King.

Also—and here is where the new "Hottentot" causes the old "Hottentot" to turn green with envy—there is a minor car and a real live horse on the stage of the Majestic every night. Those who have never seen a horse will thus be enabled to satisfy this craving during the current engagement, however indifferent they may feel about the play itself.

A cousin of Mr. Horton's took us all to look upon the famous Eddie. Miss Millard related, "We were all thrilled, you may be sure; I especially, perhaps, for even then I had already made up my mind to a stage career."

"I never dreamed, though, that some day not so far distant I would be playing opposite Mr. Horton in that very comedy!"

STARTED IN PASADENA Miss Millard, who is well known to local audiences, entered upon the inevitable and foreordained career of which, as a miss in high school, she was so certain, when she joined the Pasadena Community Players four years ago. She has not acted here during the past year and a half, her last work being as Soondra in "An American Tragedy."

"In August, 1927, I went into stock at Houston and San Antonio," she said, "returning to Los Angeles in June of the following year. I remained only a month, however, and then went to Vancouver in one of Mr. Duffy's shows. I was with Leo Carrillo when he opened the Duwain Theater in Portland. "I enjoy playing opposite Mr. Horton. There is, of course, nothing extraordinary about the role—what role in farce of this sort is ever extraordinary?—but it is pleasant enough, and—Miss Millard smiled—"all of us, you know, want to be in the public eye just now."

It was hardly necessary for her to add—"the talkies." "I never took any interest in the silent movies, although my father was connected with them for years. Now it is different; and I am as eager about them as the girl in high school was to go on the stage about the time she saw Mr. Horton in 'The Hottentot.'"

Evelyn Brent Will Appear in "Black Crows"

Evelyn Brent establishes herself by her performance in "Interference," Paramount's all talking film, now playing at Lazarus' Alhambra, her followers declare. Also prominent in the cast are William Powell and Olive Brook. This attraction is presented here exactly as shown originally at Carhay Circle Theater.

"Interference" is a dialogue drama of a murder mystery in high society. As a stage play it ran a year in London and New York. Miss Brent has just completed a leading role in Universal's million dollar production of "Broadway," and after a brief vacation at her Malibu Beach cottage she returns to Paramount to appear in the new Moran and Mack feature, "Two Black Crows."

Murder Story Told in Films

"Strange Cargo," Pathe's all-talking mystery drama, is now playing at Lazarus' Million Dollar, featuring a notable cast of fourteen stage stars. Ali-Din, Arab mind-reader, is also appearing in person as an added attraction. Action of "Strange Cargo" takes place aboard a palatial yacht in tropical waters; the millionaire owner of the vessel is murdered, and a crafty yogi, a vagabond stoker, and a beautiful adventuress, and a derelict doctor are all suspected of the crime. The whole cast talks in this screen thriller, for which Benjamin Orlaser, the director, assembled Broadway stage talent, including Lee Patrick, George Barraud, June Nash, and Russell Gleason.

"WILD ORCHIDS" CLOSING "Wild Orchids," Greta Garbo's latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, has its final showings on the Westlake screen today. The film is one of the dazzling Greta's most colorful productions and is further enhanced by the appearances of Nils Asther in the principal male role. On the same bill the Westlake is offering Marion Harris in a Vitaphone singing act and Fox Movietone News.

Evelyn Brent Wants to Do Talkies Only

Evelyn Brent hopes she will appear only in talking pictures in the future.

Miss Brent, who was acclaimed by her performance in the screen version of "Interference," did her first screen talking in that film. She found the experience fascinating. She next played in the film "Broadway." Again in that her scenes were done through the medium of voice as well as the camera.

"Working in a talking film means an additional amount of work, of course," says Miss Brent. "Studying lines at night, spending days on rehearsing prior to filming the scenes—all means much more time and work devoted to the production."

"It is so much more strenuous than learning a part in a stage play, because there, once you have it, once you finish your final rehearsal, you are working only during the hours allotted to the running of the play."

"Road to Rome" Actress Starts Hollywood Climb

Miami Campbell, southern beauty, who has been in straight and character leads in notable stock companies of the country, arrived in Hollywood a few months ago only to be absorbed first by Oakland and then by San Diego stock companies. She is now playing in San Diego at the present time where the verdict of the press is that she is a brilliant and versatile young artist.

But Miss Campbell is interested in talking pictures. She is appearing now in "The Road to Rome" and in the role created by Jane Cowl. Her plans are to return to the film capital at the conclusion of her stock engagement.

FINAL SHOWING MADE

"Sally of My Dreams," the William Fox picture, of Edna Ferber's novel, "Mother Knows Best," has had its final showings on the Westlake screen. "Mother Knows Best" was popular as a novel and its whimsical charm has been transferred to the screen in "Sally of My Dreams," which is interpreted by a cast including Madge Bellamy, Barry Norton and Louise Dresser. The Westlake is showing a synchronized print of the film. Starting Monday this house will offer "Redskin," Richard Dix's latest Paramount triumph, which is also a "talkie."

Mack Makes Trunks, Result of Accident

Because a fellow-vaudevillean once sat down upon Charles Mack's wardrobe trunk that member of the team of Moran and Mack, now starring in a "Two Black Crows" picture for Paramount, is the owner of a profitable trunk factory.

The sitting event occurred in San Francisco during Mack's vaudeville career.

The third party was a professional strong man who weighed 275 pounds. The trick of inventing various articles of use and nonuse, Mack started to work to perfect a steel-mesh reinforcement for trunks. His idea developed. A patent followed and Mack started his factory in Cleveland, O. He now has more than 100 workmen turning out trunks there.

Burbank Bill Changes Today

Featuring the chorus of forty-five flaming nappers, the new bill at the Burbank, opening Sunday, will herald in one of the snappiest forms of entertainment that has yet been witnessed at this home of burlesque. In "Dancing Around" Charles Goldie and Sam Weston, comedians, will have the first opportunity to merry-make in a different style than anything they have been seen in during their present engagement.

Estelle Mack, Emily Clark and Ann Myers, with the chorus of forty-five nifty hoofers, will present original specialties, with Hazel Miller, "The Personality Girl," and her runaway maidens topping off the bill.

PLAYS JUVENILE ROLE

With her aunt none other than Marguerite Illington, it was to be expected that Muriel McCormac would become an actress. Ten-year-old Muriel is now playing in "Dynamite," by Jeanie Macpherson. Cecil B. De Mille's first production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

MANY STUDY LARGE SETS AT CHINESE

Novel Methods Employed at Grauman House Create Much Interest

Stage artisans and producers of theatrical spectacles in numbers are flocking to Grauman's Chinese Theater to study the novel methods employed by Sid Grauman in creating the huge sets for his spectacular prologue to "The Broadway Melody."

The gigantic setting used for the prologue finale, is attracting chief interest. This mammoth piece of stage craftsmanship occupies the entire stage, from footlights to proscenium arch, and from wing to wing. It furnishes the setting for the introduction of more than three score beautiful girls.

The problem of making room for sets used earlier was ingeniously solved by Grauman in the prologue having the mammoth staircase bisected half way and the lower portion divided in the middle and mounted on wheels, so that the sections could be rolled on tracks offstage into the wings.

Such an arrangement would be possible only on a stage of the mammoth proportions of the Chinese, as the individual movable sections are larger than the ordinary complete stage set. The mammoth picture frames used in the tableaux for the dance of the seasons of the year, featuring the Alpertina Raich dancers of Ziegfeld fame, are introduced on the stage in similar manner.

Athletic Star Enters Films

Garfield Leon, 22-year-old college athlete who recently broke into films as technical adviser on Mervyn Le Roy's "Hot Stuff," will transfer his attention to acting before the cameras.

Garfield, who numbers almost 200 cups and trophies for athletic and dancing events is especially expert at polo, track, swimming and football. In 1923 he won the A.A.U. cross-country run. He is especially ambitious to typify the American college youth in his screen roles and is training his voice for his first encounter with the talkies.

On April 7 and 8 the former Stanford student will appear as the juvenile lead in "The Devil and the Cheese," to be presented at the Santa Monica Community Playhouse.

There is a much in what we do, toward the betterment of our lives. They can make or unmake. There was the military hero, promoted by a Washington, D.C. newspaper, who immediately gave away to his wife, thereby losing the regard in which he was held. There was another war hero who woman kissed his way from fame to disgrace. And there is the present precedence of a man in no way of this country can so easily make a name for himself as in Washington, D.C. raising, or crushing—as the case may be. And, who shall deny that women are the social sovereigns present?

WALTHALL SCORES IN 'SPEAKEASY'

Veteran Actor Proves He is Much at Home in New Film Methods

"Henry Walthall's middle initial is B, but it should be W, because his middle name ought to be Walthall," Benjamin Stoloff, film director, declared some three years ago as he watched Walthall making "Kentucky Pride."

That was when the screen was silent, at the time that Fox Movietone was still a nebulous theory. Stoloff's remark was based on Walthall's uncanny knowledge of the camera, the simple way in which he registered thoughts and emotions, as well as the technical wisdom which made the celebrated character actor a master of pantomime.

But Walthall's greatest demonstration of what can be accomplished through an accumulated knowledge of all the intricacies of histrionic art and the new complexities surrounding the "photography" of sound as well as sight, Stoloff was yet to see and, strangely enough, in a picture which he was directing, "Speakeasy," the all-dialogue melodrama of New York night life now playing at the Fox Criterion Theatre.

In this picture, it is said, Walthall proves beyond all dispute he is now just as much a master of the new mechanics of sound as he was a few years ago of visual effects. Then he was equipped with a highly trained sense of pantomime; now he is as much an authority on talking pictures as the acoustic engineers. In "Speakeasy" he plays the piano many times in the course of his characterization of a broken-down musician who finds refuge and livelihood in one of Broadway's "joints."

Chaney Grows Mustache for Engineer Role

Lon Chaney has applied many strange make-ups, but has always rebelled at false mustaches, which he says are never natural looking. He has always dodged any role that required hirsute adornment.

But Menzies has overtaken him and he is now growing a large "handle bar" mustache, for his role as the old railroad engineer in "Thunder," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's forthcoming drama of the railroad, to be directed by William Nigh.

The author, Byron Morgan, insisted that railroad veterans wear mustaches. Chaney refused to wear an imitation—so time has been taken out while the star raises his own.

Chaney will leave shortly for the railroad yards of New York and Chicago, and the Baldwin Locomotive Works, where the actual making of a locomotive will be filmed for the picture. By the time he gets there he thinks his new adornment will be ready for the camera.

Film Portrays Romance Story

The "lucky" seven who combined to make "Seventh Heaven" are together again making "Lucky Star" for Fox Films.

The "lucky" seven are Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, who will be co-starred in this new romance; Director Frank Borzage and his brother Lew; Capt. H. H. Caldwell and Katharine Hillier, who will edit and title the new opus, and Harry Oliver, who will again provide the unique and beautiful settings for the production.

BLOND WIG TO BE DOFFED

Dee Loretta Determines to Leave "Broadway" Chorus Girl Role Behind

It's Lili, Lili, Lili.

Dee Loretta has been playing the character of the hefty blond of "Broadway" so long, that even her best friends won't call her by any other name, and when this state of affairs comes to pass it's high time to call quits, according to Miss Loretta.

Playwright Will Appear in "Twin Beds"

Armand Kalis has been assigned to the role of Monte Solari, the opera tenor, in First National's current all-Vitaphone production of the famous stage farce, "Twin Beds." After studying at the Conservatory of Music in Paris, Kalis at the age of eighteen made his debut as an opera singer during the Monte Carlo winter opera season in "Lakme" and "The Juggler of Notre Dame." From there he went to the Opera Comique in Paris and was then put under contract to Charles Frohman, for whom he sang leads in many romantic light operas including "My Darling," "The Chocolate Soldier," "The Waltz Dream," "The Kissed Girl" and others.

Kalis has also written several romantic operettas, with which he has toured vaudeville circuits both here and abroad. The list includes "Mon Amour," "Mon Desir," "Romance," "Caprice" and "Temptation." The theme song of "Mon Amour" is still bringing in large royalties to its author. These operettas and others Kalis expects to again popularize through the medium of talking pictures.

Study of Music Found Helpful

Sam Hardy studied music for eight years. He did it when he was busy in the theater and when others were having a good time. But Hardy had an ambition to do his work with finesse. Twelve out of twenty-five years which he spent on the stage were given to musical comedy.

"There is a rhythm, a phrasing and a pitch in acting that is best secured if one has the basis of a musical training. Knowledge of tempo, so important in acting, is gained from experience in musical comedy," says Hardy.

The actor is now playing a role in "On With the Show" for Warner.

Drama Shows Box Car Scene

"Alias The Deacon," the John Hymer-Le Roy Clemens comedy success which ran for a year in New York, and which the colored Lafayette Players are offering, starting tomorrow night, is said to have one of the most unusual prologues ever seen in a play.

The drama, coming to the Lincoln Theatre following the final performance of "Damaged Goods" tonight, opens in a scene of a "box car" traveling across country. In the car are three hoboes, a pseudo deacon who is shown to be a shrewd card shark as the curtain rises; a girl masquerading as a boy, and John Adams—the silent one of the trio.

This prologue is the author's way of introducing the three leading characters in "Alias the Deacon," whom the audience meets again in the first act at Mrs. Clark's boarding house, where the remainder of the action takes place.

This all started in New York some months ago, when Dee applied for a role with one of the companies scheduled to take "Broadway" on the road. She got the part—but she hasn't been able to get rid of it. Even the blond wig she donned for her first appearance in this drama of the New York night clubs, now showing at the Vine Street, has followed her from town to town like a faithful watchdog.

But with the close of the Hollywood production of "Broadway" just one week in the offing, Dee has determined to turn over a new leaf, to desert the padding that transforms her 125 pounds to some 85, to padlock the faithful blond wig in favor of her own boyishly bobbed tresses—in short, she has determined to be herself, and to, perchance, take a fling at talkies.

Dee is not entirely new to pictures, having appeared in the silent variety several years ago.

"But playing to a camera simply petrified me—it was the infernal silence of the whole thing. I suppose it is really more silent on the set now, but there doesn't seem to be that 'all alone' feeling so prevalent before."

Dee shares her dressing-room at the Vine Street with Ann Cornwall and between these two very different problems from the talkies to the excellence of spaghetti dinners as staged by Maurice Black and his wife, are discussed.

Maurice, who portrays the role of the gangster and night club owner at the Vine Street, will be remembered for the same characterization in the Mason production. He and Miss Loretta are the only ones of the original production still playing the piece, although Robert Elliot, who portrayed the detective, is scoring in films. Black, too, has made no small reputation for himself as a film actor.

Miss Loretta, however, believes that night club and underworld dramas have reached about the end of their rope—and that in the place of modish theater-goers are soon going to require heroines of almost Little Eva purity.

But whichever way things turn, she has halfway made up her mind to stay in California, but from reports concerning talkie activities in various studios, and the film chances coming her way, it looks as though her stay in the matter will be very slight.

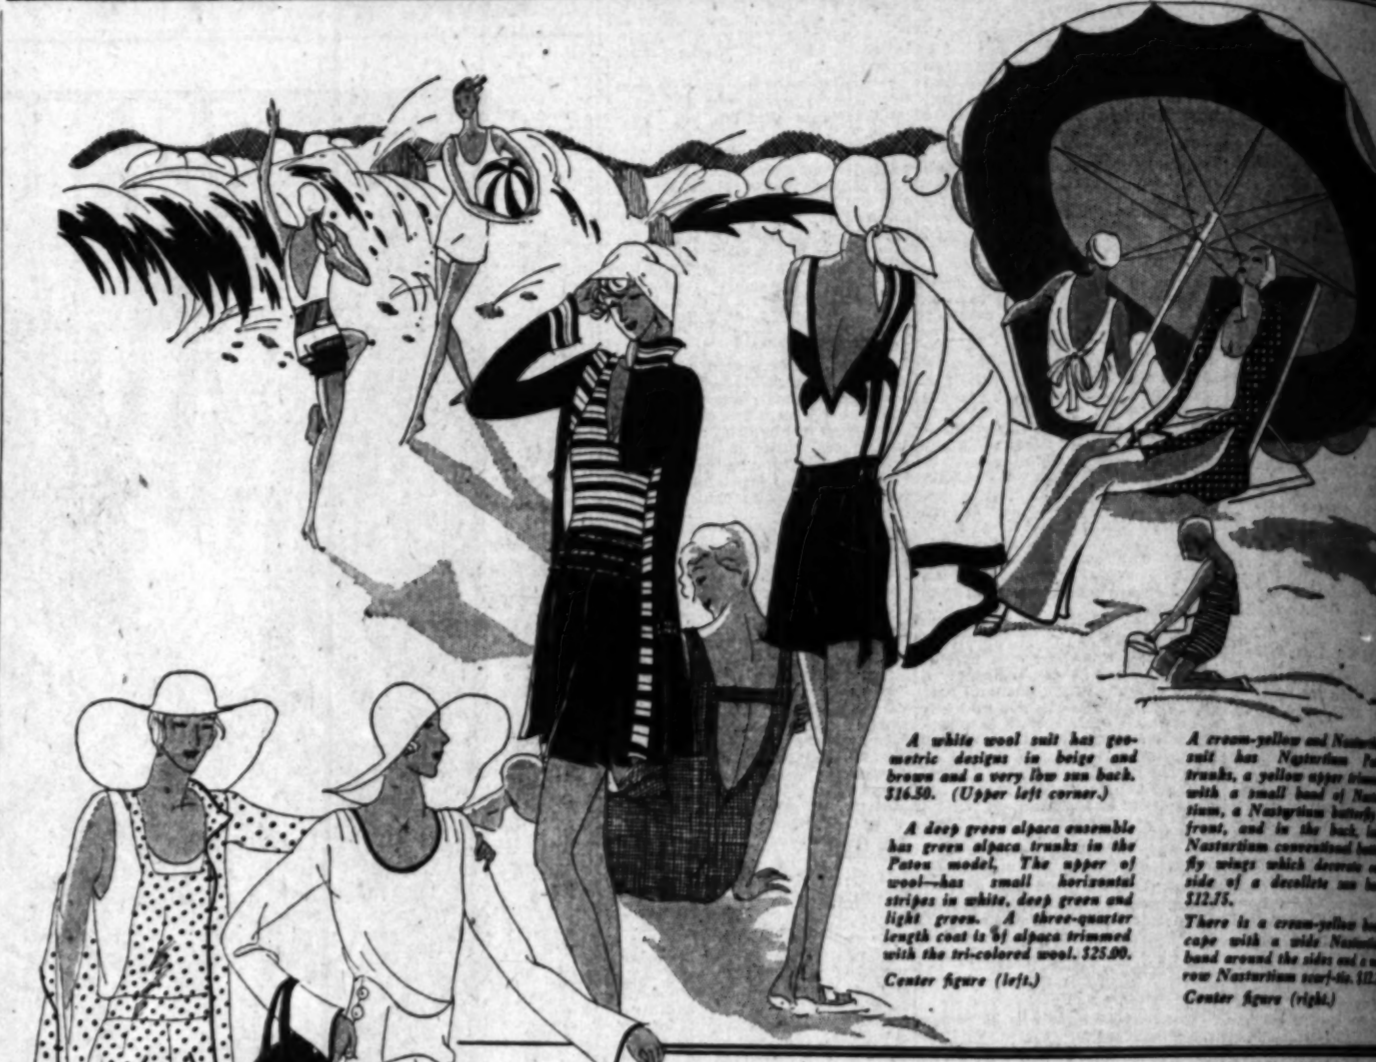

High Heels No Good for Deep Snow Mushing

There probably is no more invigorating sport than the ancient one of "mushing" in the deep snows of the northland, but "mushing" in silk stockings and high-heeled slippers is quite another thing, according to Carol Lombard and Diane Ellis, who found that out during the making of exterior scenes for "High Voltage," with William Boyd in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

One scene in the pictures called for a tramp through three feet of snow for a distance of a mile from a stranded automobile bus to a shack in the snowbound hills. Carol and Diane had to make the trip three times before Howard Higgin, the director, approved the "take." Wet and freezing in the zero weather, the actresses swore off "mushing" for life.

The cast of "High Voltage," besides Boyd and the two girls, included Owen Moore, Billy Bevan and Phillips Smalley.

Beach Apparel

EVERYONE EXPECTS THE UNEXPECTED ON THIS YEAR'S BEACH. COLORS CHALLENGE TROPICAL SEALIFE. STRIPES, LARGE AND SMALL, FALL IN LINE WITH DIAGONALS, HORIZONTALS OR VERTICALS WITH UNDISTURBED POPULARITY.

Tri-Color Combinations Are Unusually Chic

The ensemble influence predominates the beach world in costumes for lounging and swimming in many striking variations: in floppy French trouser ensembles, silk over-all ensembles, cape ensembles, and in solid-color ensemble coats with trimming to match the swimming suit.

Sun-backs are received with unprecedented favor. Hats of rough straw are worn with elephantine brims. It seems that the only key to this colorful mass of beach fashions is bizarre individuality.

Pajama Ensembles

FASHIONABLE . . . sophisticated, pajama ensembles express freedom and comfort.

A blue flannel ensemble has a finger-tip coat, tailored in simple lines without a collar. Floppy trousers have a snug waist band which fastens at the sides with large pearl buttons. $25.00.

A white crepe de Chine tuck-in waist has long, loose sleeves. The cuffs and neck are piped with bright blue. Very wide trousers of white whip-cord are snug at the waist and fasten on the sides with large pearl buttons. $35.00.

Details

ACCESSORIES at the beach are details of gaiety and comfort. Giant rubber animals, filled with air: frogs, fish, horses, and swans are great fun in the water.

Beach slippers with high heels, for those who have become adjusted to that type of shoe, are very popular. Flat heeled wooden sandals are comfortable and easy to wear.

Bandanas are shown in many styles in silk, silk moire, and satin. A pillow, crotone on one side, rubber on the other, opens like a bag. It has a rubber lining and is drawn together by a cord.

Beach bags are shown in many styles: with zippers with wooden handles, with purse clasps. Some are silk moire; others are canvas or crotone. All have rubber lining.

Small Children Play in the Sun

SUN-SUITS, little trunks with adjustable shoulder straps, indicate a tendency to agree with foreign watering places on the latest service of equipment. Another good model for a small child, a one-piece suit, with a pin stripe; or a one-piece suit, bi-colored; the upper and trunks of which contrast, creating a two-piece effect.

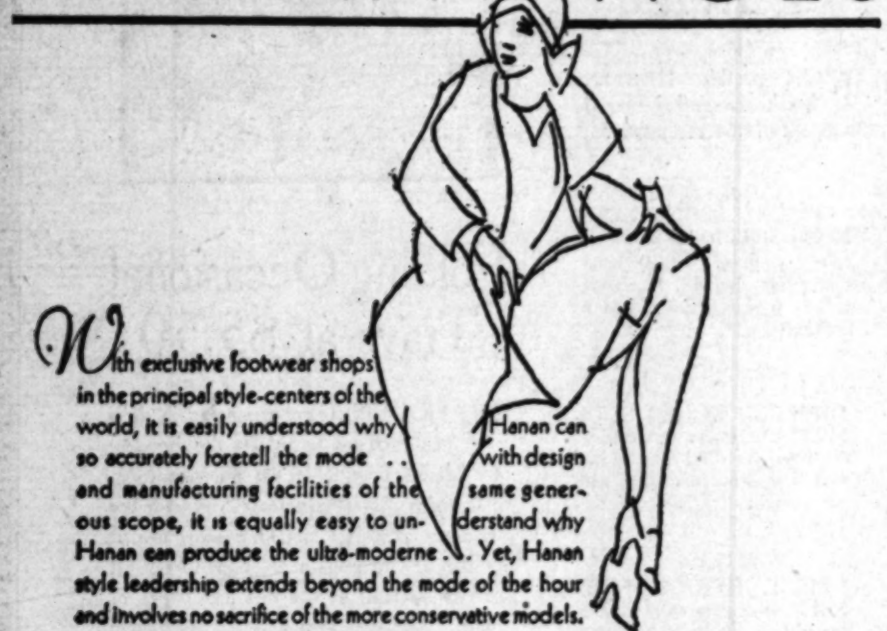

This one-piece . . . two-piece model is popular with older children also. Many of these suits have the smart intricacies in mechanical or geometric designs.

HANAN SHOES

With exclusive footwear shops in the principal style-centers of the world, it is easily understood why so accurately foretell the mode . . . With design and manufacturing facilities of the same generous scope, it is equally easy to understand why Hanan can produce the ultra-modern . . . Yet, Hanan style leadership extends beyond the mode of the hour and involves no sacrifice of the more conservative models.

Ever Avers Middleman Will be Eliminated

Combinations Visioned in Coming Years

Consolidation of Business Due to Automobile

motion picture business is through another upheaval. have had their revolution. The spirit of change is in the air, and the result will probably be a complete elimination of the middleman, and the establishment of a closer contact between producer and the public. This is the opinion of the film world's forecast yesterday, Joseph I. Schallert, president of the R. C. O. Productions, a combination whose affairs are handled by the General Electric Company. It was born by that huge electrical corporation, one of the first to have made since the company's inception.

Two years in pictures, Schallert unquestionably knows the business, he said. This is the closing of the door through conditions throughout the industry in the exhibition of pictures.

AUTO PLAYS PART
